TRUSS THROWS FM KWARTENG UNDER THE BUS TO SAVE CHAIR

British Prime Minister Liz Truss on Friday sacked her close friend in a bid to stem the economic turmoil following his mini-budget

KWASI KWARTENG

JEREMY HUNT

JEREMY HUNT APPOINTED NEW CHANCELLOR

The appointment of former foreign minister Hunt, who had backed Rishi Sunak to be Britain's Prime Minister, is seen as Truss' attempt to assuage dissidents. She is also expected to do a volte-face on her main plank on corporation tax, by raising the rate from 19% to 25% in April 2023, as tabled by former chancellor Sunak but withdrawn by Kwarteng in his mini-budget

UNDER MOUNTING PRESSURE TO QUIT AS PM

HC frees Saibaba citing procedure flaw during trial

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @Mumbai

THE Nagpur Bench of the Bombay High Court on Friday acquitted former Delhi University professor G N Saibaba and five others accused of having Maoist ties, more than eight years after they were arrested and charged under various sections of the UAPA (Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act) and the Indian Penal Code.

G N Saibaba

The HC held the entire trial null and void for failing to follow procedural safeguards. The sanction to prosecute Saibaba under the UAPA came a year after it was granted in 2014 against the other five accused in the case. In other words, when the trial court took cognisance of the chargesheet against him in 2014, there was no sanction to prosecute Saibaba under the UAPA, the HC pointed out.

"While the war against terror must be waged by the state with unwavering resolve, and every legitimate weapon in the armoury must be deployed in the fight against terror, a civil democratic society can ill afford sacrificing the procedural safeguards legislatively provided, and which is an integral facet of the due process of law, at the altar of perceived peril to national security," the division bench said.

The prosecution then moved the Supreme Court against the acquittal but failed to get an immediate stay on the HC's order.

In March 2017, the trial court had sentenced Saibaba, Mahesh Tirki, Pandu Narote, Hem Mishra, Prashant Rahi and Vijay Tirki to life imprisonment. While Tirki is out on bail, Narote died in jail last year due to swine flu. All others were ordered to be released from the Nagpur Central jail.

The HC limited its observations to the validity of the sanction to prosecute the accused under UAPA. Saibaba's services were terminated by Ram Lal Anand College in 2021.

Lumpy skin disease kills 2,070 cattle in Karnataka

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

EVEN as farmers are trying to come to terms with the destruction caused by heavy rain across the state, they are now facing a new challenge. Lumpy skin disease is spreading fast among cattle which has become a major cause of concern. Over the last few weeks, Karnataka has witnessed the death of 2,070 cattle heads due to the disease, which has spread across 28 districts infecting 46,000 cattle.

What is more worrying is that the cattle infected with the disease are not showing symptoms on the skin like before, but is instead spreading to their lungs and stomach. Karnataka is the third state after Maharashtra and Rajasthan where the disease is spreading fast.

CM Basavaraj Bommai convened a meeting with Animal Husbandry Department officials and also directed the Finance Department to immediately release ₹13 crore for the treatment and vaccination of cattle, besides providing relief to farmers whose cattle have died. The government is currently giving ₹20,000 as compensation to farmers for death of cows and ₹30,000 for oxen. Bommai said a sum of ₹2 crore has already been released as compensation. An additional ₹5 crore will be released towards the treatment of the diseased cattle and ₹8 crore for vaccinating them.

The CM added that the disease has spread to 4,380 villages in 160 taluks in 28 districts. Of the total 45,645 infected cattle, 26,135 have recovered and 2,070 have died. P4

Panic among people

There is a fear spreading among people that drinking milk of infected cows can be harmful. At some places, people have stopped buying milk packets. However, some experts said that, so far, there is no evidence of lumpy skin disease spreading to human beings.

'No Shivling carbon dating'

NAMITA BAJPAI @Lucknow

THE Varanasi district court on Friday rejected a petition filed by four Hindu women seeking carbon dating and a scientific probe of the Shivling-like structure found in the wuzukhana (ablution pond) within the Gyanvapi mosque premises during a court-ordered survey conducted in May.

District judge Ajay Krishna Vishvesha said the scientific probe could not be permitted as carbon dating and ground penetrating radar could cause damage to the Shivling and would amount to the violation of the Supreme Court order to protect it.

The exercise might also hurt the religious sentiment of the general public, he added.

"It will not be appropriate to direct the Archaeological Survey of India to determine the age, nature of the Shivling," said the judge in his order.

The Anjuman Intezamia Masajid, the management committee of Gyanvapi mosque, had opposed carbon dating or any scientific survey of the structure, calling it a fountain.

Shailaja faces graft probe over PPE kits

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @T'Puram

CELEBRATED former Kerala health minister K K Shailaja got into trouble as the state's Lok Ayukta on Friday decided to investigate the corruption charges against her and 12 others in connection with the purchase of personal protective equipment kits and other medical devices during the first Covid wave in 2020.

The probe against Shailaja, a CPM central committee member, comes at a time when there are attempts from within the party to sideline her. It follows the CPM's decision to drop her from the Cabinet even though she garnered global accolades for her brilliant handling of the pandemic and, more recently, the party's move to scuttle the Magsaysay award for Shailaja. The probe could further undermine the former minister's political career and be exploited by her detractors both within and outside the party.

The Lok Ayukta's order is based on the complaint by Congress leader Veena S Nair, who alleged state-owned Medical Services Corporation (MSC) purchased the equipment at exorbitant rates. The anti-corruption ombudsman said, "We are satisfied this complaint has to be admitted and an investigation commenced under Section 9 (3) of Lok Ayukta Act." Former secretary (health) Dr Rajan N Khobragade, former MSC MD Balamurali and ex-MSC GM S R Dilipkumar are the other respondents.

Nair alleged the devices were bought at three times the market price, causing huge loss to the exchequer. She also urged the Lok Ayukta to declare the respondents unfit to hold public office and sought a directive to prosecute Shailaja and others for misappropriation of funds.

Collected 'packets' for ex-Lokayukta's son: Witness

M G CHETAN @Bengaluru

WITNESSES in the corruption case in Karnataka Lokayukta office, which rocked the state in 2015, have made startling revelations before a court. The staff, who worked in Lokayukta's office and residence, have testified that they used to collect "packets and bags" as per instructions from the accused Ashwin Yarabati alias Ashwin Rao, son of tainted former Lokayukta Justice Y Bhaskar Rao, and Syed Riyaz, who worked as Lokayukta PRO.

The trial in the case is in the stage of collecting evidence. Pramod A P, a CAR head constable who worked in accused PRO Riyaz's office, deposed that Ashwin Rao, another accused V Bhasker alias '420 Bhaskar' and Ashok Kumar visited the Lokayukta office, and the 4, including Riyaz, met in the conference hall, which was under Riyaz's control and called government officials to the office. He also said he was asked to collect money and letters from various persons. He said Riyaz and Nagaraj, who was the PA of the then revenue minister, were very close. P5

HC: App-based autos can collect 10% more charge

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Friday permitted taxi aggregators to offer autorickshaw services by collecting 10 per cent additional charge over and above the fare fixed by the state government, and applicable GST. The court's decision came as there was no consensus arrived at in the meeting held by the state government with the taxi aggregators on the issue of the rate to be charged for autorickshaw services offered by them through their apps.

Justice MGS Kamal passed the order as an interim arrangement while granting 15 days' time as sought by the state government to finalise the tariff as per the Motor Vehicles Aggregator Guidelines 2020 issued by the Central government in November 2020.

Till then, the state government has been asked not to take any coercive action against aggregators for offering autorickshaw services, he said, while also issuing a notice to the state government on the petitions filed by them.

Further hearing of all three petitions filed by taxi aggregators — ANI Technologies Pvt Ltd, Uber India Systems Pvt Ltd and Roppen Transportation Services — which offer services through Ola, Uber and Rapido Apps, respectively, was adjourned to November 7, 2022, to enable the state to fix tariff.

Advocate General Prabhuling K Navadagi informed the court about no consensus being arrived at in the meeting held on Thursday on the rate to be charged. He sought the court's permission to be granted a maximum of 15 days for the state government to resolve the issue, and asked for allowing 5 or 7.5 per cent to 10 per cent for the autorickshaws to collect as additional charges for the services. ASSEMBLY ELECTIONS

Himachal polls on Nov 12, Guj later

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

HIMACHAL Pradesh will go to polls on November 12 while Gujarat's poll schedule will be declared a few weeks later, the Election Commission of India said on Friday. Counting of votes in Himachal Pradesh will take place on December 8.

While Chief Election Commissioner Rajiv Kumar cited the precedent of the last elections to the two states for not making simultaneous announcements, opposition parties alleged deliberate delay in Gujarat's poll schedule to allow the incumbent government to roll out more welfare schemes before the model code of conduct kicks in.

In 2017, Assembly polls in Himachal Pradesh and Gujarat were not announced at the same time but counting took place together on December 18. In states like Himachal Pradesh, weather is a very important factor, especially in the upper reaches of the constituencies where snowing takes place. "The Commission...decided to go by the convention last followed. In any case, with reparations and conduct of elections is a very detailed exercise and it takes into account various, variable factors; consultation with all stakeholders and the factors which are competitive," Kumar said.

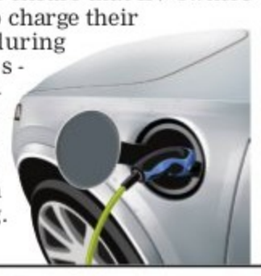
State highways get 2 EV charging corridors

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

IN a major relief to owners of electric vehicles (EVs), Bharat Petroleum Corporation Ltd (BPCL) has set up two major EV charging stations on two prime highways in the state. The EV Fast Charging Corridors have been established on the Bengaluru-Chennai and Bengaluru-Mysuru-Kodagu highways. This is under phase 2 of BPCL's efforts to set up EV charging stations in South India, following the setting up of a corridor on the Chennai-Trichy-Madurai highway.

BPCL's PS Ravi, Executive Director In-Charge (Retail), said the corridors will ensure that EV owners are able to charge their vehicles during long-distance travel and also cut the time spent on charging.



"Major concerns of four-wheeler EV owners include the duration of one-time charge, availability of charging stations on highways and duration of charging. This is where the EV Fast Charging Corridor concept comes in, wherein travellers can be assured that they can charge their vehicles during their journey without any hassle," he said.

EV 25kW CCS-2 fast charging stations are located at nine fuel pumps run by BPCL.

Bengaluru second airport after Mumbai to receive Superjumbo Airbus A380

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

ON Friday evening, the world's largest passenger aircraft, which flew in from Dubai, touched down at the Kempegowda International Airport with 231 passengers on board at 3.37 pm, creating an epochal moment in aviation history. The superjumbo Airbus A380 flew announced its arrival in Bengaluru with a big group of Emirates staff on board. The commercial launch will start on October 30.

Flight EK 562 took three-and-a-half hours to complete its journey from Dubai International Airport, landing smoothly on the Southern Runway of KIA. BIAL airport operator accorded a "follow me" welcome with three yellow cars guiding the flight to the parking lot.

Bengaluru will only be the second airport after Mumbai to have received this Superjumbo flight with a seating capacity of 493, which is 45% more than the Boeing 777. Speaking about its features, an Emirates spokesperson said, "The aircraft is 72.7m long, weighs over 510 tonnes and stands at 24.1m tall."

Dr Ahmed Abdel Rahman Al-Banna, UAE ambassador to India flew in from New Delhi to welcome the Airbus which had on board Adnan Kazim, Chief Commercial Officer, Emirates and Ahmed Khoory, Senior vice-president of Commercial Operations, West Asia and Indian Ocean. Co-operation Minister ST Somashekhar and BIAL CEO Hari Marar were present.

The first class section has a shower spa, mini bar, a big screen in front which can be operated from the seat. The flight departed at 6.40pm from Bengaluru.

From October 30, Airbus 380 will be on flight schedule: EK 568 will leave Dubai at 9.25pm (Dubai time) and will reach Bengaluru at 2.30am. The return flight EK 569 will leave KIA at 4.30am and will reach Dubai at 7.10am (local time).

Emirates pilot soaks in the luxury

Among the 231 passengers on board, six travelled first class, 40 business class and the rest in economy. Among them was Zaosh Godrej, an Emirates pilot, who enjoyed the experience as a passenger. "The flight was an experience by itself with an ultra comfortable spacious seating. The lounge on the first class has a mini bar by one's seat. With the pastries and other delicacies being supplied continuously, the trip is something to be cherished really," he told TNIE. Adnan Kazim, Chief Commercial Officer, Emirates, added, "It was truly an out of the world experience for me."

Big demand from B'luru, says Emirates

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

CHIEF Commercial Manager, Emirates, Adnan Kasim, on Friday said the response from India's Silicon Valley is tremendous.

"We commenced operations in Bengaluru in 2006 and we have already seen over six million passengers flying from here to Dubai via EK (Emirates) and it is a success story for us.

"The product of Emirates is well appreciated by Karnataka. They may go to Dubai or even beyond Dubai to Germany and the UK and a lot of ethnic traffic is happening.The airport is well equipped to receive A380," he said.

He said, "The demand for air travel is spiking. Already, 70-80 per cent of international and 100 per cent domestic travel has recovered. In the last eight months, Dubai has crossed 9 million tourists from all over the world, and India is leading the way."

On its operations still continuing to Russia despite the Ukraine war, he said, "We have a bilateral (agreement) with Russia and we need to respect that. Our objective is humanitarian. There are students and they need to be connected to their families. If Russia requires us for medical reasons we reach them. It is mainly around that sort of boundary that we continue our operations."

He said, "Today, we launched a new configuration in the form of a Fourth Class, the Premium Economy. It has 56 seats. We have six aircraft with premium economy. It is completely refurbished including the colour."

Cake cut, celebrations focus on spl UAE-K'taka relationship

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

A CAKE with the icing on it read "Namma A380 Bengaluru to Dubai and beyond" was cut to celebrate the occasion.

Speaking at an event organised at the airport, Adnan Kasim, Chief Commercial Manager, Emirates called the as "the celebration of a great milestone for the iconic aircraft. It will link the Silicon Valley of India to the (United Arab) Emirates. It will cover 36 destinations in 24 countries. A statement read, "The special relationship we share with Bengaluru and the State of Karnataka is one of mutual growth and prosperity."

Hari Marar, MD and CEO, BIAL, said, "We are absolutely delighted to have this aircraft. It is a milestone...this shows the confidence in the potential of the city as far as air traffic is concerned. It has come at the right time for the Bengaluru airport as we are on the verge of a major expansion programme."

It has taken Bengaluru 30 years to touch 4.5 million international flyers, he said. Probably in the next 5 to 7 years, it will touch 10 million international flyers, Marar said. "In terms of overall passengers, we are looking at 60 million passengers in the next 5 to 7 years," the MD said. Dr Ahmed Abdel Rahman Albanna, UAE Ambassador to India, billed the A380 as a 'flying giant.' "People to people relationships means communication, transport and closer geographical boundaries. A380 launch means a lot to Emirates airlines and the people of Karnataka." T Somashekhar, Co-operation Minister, "Bengaluru is only the second city after Mumbai to be covered by A380. Kempegowda International airport operates more than 170 flights to Dubai daily. Karnataka and UAE have a close relationship based on cultural, religious and economic ties between them."

Before GIM, finish works by Oct 31: BBMP chief

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

WITH Karnataka all set to host the Global Investors Meet in November, the BBMP Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath has given standing instructions to officials to complete works by the end of October.

Among the projects, the BBMP is keen on completing the much-awaited Rs39-crore worth Shivananda Circle Steel Flyover which has been pending for the last five years. Earlier, the BBMP fixed the inauguration for Independence Day, which was later postponed for Ganesha Chaturthi, and now the BBMP hopes to complete it during Diwali.

During the review meeting at the BBMP headquarter, Girinath said that since Diwali, Kannada Rajyotsava is approaching, and the Global Investors' Meet will be held in November in Bengaluru, some important ongoing projects have been identified to be completed by October 31.

As the Shivananda Circle to Racecourse Road Junction, KG Road-Tender SURE are close to Vidhana Soudha, it was suggested that the works of the projects on this stretch be completed at the earliest.

Instructions were also given to complete the intermediate Ring Road Junction NR Road from Domlur-Ejipura Flyover project, he added.

'Name Shivananda Steel Flyover after Puneeth'

With BBMP set to complete the much-awaited Shivananda Circle Steel Flyover, BJP leader NR Ramesh has demanded that the flyover be named after 'Power Star' Puneeth Rajkumar, calling it 'Karnataka Rathna Dr Puneeth Rajkumar' flyover. The leader has sent representations to Palike Chief Commissioner, which states that it is also the demand of the residents in and around Shivananda Circle.

B'lureans bat for aggregator autos

NAMRATA SINDWANI @ Bengaluru

WITH the Karnataka High Court granting 15 days' time to the state government to fix the tariff rate as per the Motor Vehicles Aggregator Guidelines 2020, Bengalureans batted for aggregator autorickshaws, blaming poor intermodal transport system of the city, compelling them to opt for private modes of transport.

Sandeep Anirudhan, convenor, Bengaluru Agenda for Mobility, said that the city suffers from poor mobility as it lacks unified transport system. Mass transit system and last mile connectivity seems to be absent in many parts of the city which is not the case in other Metro cities like Mumbai and Delhi. He said that Bengalureans prefer aggregator autorickshaws because it is more convenient and easy to book than local modes of transport.

Echoing Anirudhan, Sriparna Roy, a professional in the city, said, "The local autorickshaws do not cooperate, and often charge higher than the amount shown for the aggregator autorickshaws. It is convenient, especially, during the night, as one does not have to go finding an autorickshaw."

Another daily commuter said that sometimes it becomes a humongous task to find an autorickshaw as often, they do not run on metre, and end up charging higher prices or same as the aggregator autorickshaws.

It is more convenient to book an autorickshaw than haggling with the drivers, the commuter added.

UBER WELCOMES HC ORDER

Taxi aggregators have welcomed the Karnataka HC order on Friday that the aggergator autorickshaws can collect 10% additional charge over and above the fare fixed by the state government, and applicable GST. An Uber spokesperson said that the 'e-hailing' of autorickshaws is more preferred in Bengaluru, due to safety, and it also avoids situations of haggling, which happens for local autorickshaws. "We welcome today's court order, which recognises that auto drivers have the right to operate using aggregator platforms," they said.

Govt open to fixing tariff, AG informs court

THIS was against the 20 per cent additional charge over and above the actual meter charge, plus GST, which the petitioners had demanded.

Advocate General Navadagi also submitted that the state government was open to formulating the tariff and until then the guidelines should be adhered to by the aggregators. In view of time to be taken to fix the tariff, the aggregators should follow the price fixed by the state government in November 2021 with 10 per cent additional charge and tax towards the fare, he argued.

The court said that the aggregators are at liberty to seek license or renew license in accordance with the law.

The taxi aggregators have challenged the notice dated October 6 on autorickshaw services violating the Karnataka On-Demand Transportation Technology Aggregator Rules, 2016 and charging more than the rate fixed by the government and also the communication on October 12, 2022 issued by Transport Commissioner to stop the said service.

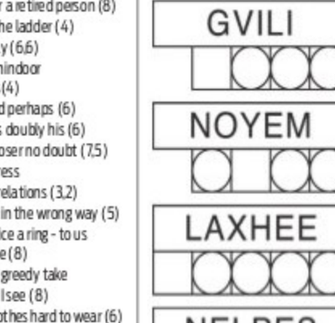
Meanwhile, the petitioners brought to the notice of the court that the Centre had amended Section 93 of the Motor Vehicle Act with regard to provisions for licence to aggregators and guidelines to be followed.

Potholes open up, waterlogging in parts of city

NAMRATA SINDWANI @ Bengaluru

HEAVY rain on Thursday night opened up new potholes in some parts of Bengaluru, causing traffic to slow down and waterloggin in some areas. A part of the road on Suranjan Das Road near HAL main gate was seen to have caved in which was ringed with barricade to avoid accidents. This slowed down traffic towards Marathahalli, and commuters were asked to take alternative routes.

The 15th Cross, Eshwara Layout in Indiranagar 2nd Stage were also flooded following the rain. A resident of Indiranagar said that there was torrential rain in the area for over two hours, and it stopped around 4am in the morning. There were also reports of waterlogging on the Ring Road flyover near Manyata Tech Park, and those who had to catch a flight were asked to start an hour early.



Heavy rain on Thursday night submerge a car in Bengaluru | EXPRESS

Following floods in September, CM Bommai had asked officials to desilt the drains. A civil engineer, who did not wish to be named, blamed the poor quality of road construction, and lack of drainage system for waterlogging. According to the IMD, city is likely to see moderate rain from till Monday.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

15TH October: Today is sacred to the planet Saturn. In plain language this means that it's a time to focus on conservative values, such as tradition, respect for one's elders and preserving everything that is best about our civilization. It's all about following the rules, not breaking them. It's about building a better world, rather than just talking about it!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Everything seems to focus around how much you can afford, not to mention the value you place on certain relationships. Money itself may be a cause of friction, but you may also spend your way to satisfying long-held desires. Just check you've got the spare funds first.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
There's a powerful undercurrent in all your affairs at the moment, sweeping you inexorably towards the future. In fact, you'll soon reach an emotional high tide. It seems inevitable that you must be true to your heart, and this will make it very difficult to compromise.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
You are bound to feel just a little strung out today, perhaps because it looks as if your work is never done. If you put your emotional energy into achieving something of value, rather than frittering your time away, then you will soon begin to reap the rewards.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
You should state your case and stick to it. If you know that what you say is an exact reflection of how you feel, there can be little room for compromise. It is up to others to realise that, just now, you have to be you. I'm sure partners will be patient with you.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Your planetary aspects could not be more challenging. This is a simple way of saying that difficulties should be welcomed as 'learning opportunities'. You may see this as a chance to grow in wisdom, maturity and confidence, even if partners' behaviour is sometimes wild and unpredictable.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
It's certainly a powerful moment, and you seem to be unduly affected by the way other people think and feel. There may be nothing you can do about it for now, beyond trying to get them to talk about their many fears and desires. Don't judge them too harshly.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Please don't lose your head just because all around you partners seem to be losing theirs. The most positive way to use your planetary energy at the moment is to get involved in some sort of charitable venture. Do favours for others and you'll benefit within a few years - or even months.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
You think you know your own mind, but do you? Now is the time to face the facts, as long as you listen carefully to other people's views. The only problem may arise if you are dealing with matters where emotions count for more than do your practical skills. And, above all, don't undervalue your own contribution to the world.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
This certainly looks like an expensive moment and, if you know what's good for you, you'll stay well clear of dubious financial involvements. Put your emotional suspicions to one side and concentrate on finding out what makes someone else tick.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
You are bound to meet your fair share of criticism. In fact the greater the opposition you face, the better, because you'll be forced to sharpen up your act, with good consequences for your social dreams and romantic affairs in particular.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Whatever you're doing, however you feel, there are always balancing factors, and right now excessive secrecy relating to feelings will be compensated for by equally forthright honesty concerning ideas and opinions. As a matter of fact, it may be all thoroughly confusing!

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You seem to be smitten by a strange sort of divine discontent, almost as if you know that the grass must be greener on the other side, but you're not sure how to get there. News from overseas might just bring relief, but a mystical or spiritual approach may reveal the answer.

CJI recuses from hearing BSY's plea

Directs that matter should be listed before appropriate bench after Diwali

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@NewDelhi

CHIEF Justice of India UU Lalit on Friday recused himself from considering a plea filed by former Karnataka CM BS Yediyurappa and minister Murugesh Nirani against a Karnataka High Court order of restoring a criminal case related to denotifying parcels of land during his tenure as deputy CM and allotting them to entrepreneurs.

When the matter was taken up for hearing, the CJI said, "I have some difficulty; I can't take up this matter. I'm saying this should be before a bench of which I am not a member."

Accordingly, the CJI directed the matter to be listed before an appropriate bench after Diwali.

Yediyurappa had challenged the Karnataka HC's January 5, 2021, order rejecting his plea to quash a criminal complaint filed by A Alam Pasha, alleging that the leader had illegally denotified 20 acres from land acquisition proceedings to unduly favour private parties. The HC had directed the Special Court to take cognisance and proceed as per law on the basis of the chargesheet filed by the Lokayukta police in 2012.

"That being the position of law, the quashing of the earlier complaint filed by the petitioner in PCR.No.25/2012 for want of sanction, in my view, will not operate as a bar to maintain the instant complaint. The prohibition contained in Article 20(2) of the Constitution of India and section 300 of the CrPC does not get attracted to the facts of the case as the respondents have not been prosecuted or acquitted based on the earlier complaint lodged against them in PCR.No.25/2012," Justice John Michael D'Cunha had said in his order.

In 2021, a bench headed by the then CJI had refused to stay the HC's order but had granted them interim protection from arrest. Former CJI SA Bobde, while hearing the petition, had said, "You are a sitting chief minister. Who will issue a warrant against you? At most, they can issue a request for you."

Questioning the HC's power of proceeding to take action under the Prevention of Corruption Act against a public servant without prior sanction, Yediyurappa in his plea had said, "Intention of the Parliament to offer protection to a Public Servant is also evident from the insertion of Section 17A in the PC Act."

Kharge completes his state tours, but skips Raj, K'taka

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

MALLIKARJUN Kharge from Karnataka, contesting the Congress presidential election, on Friday completed the last leg of his state visits in Bhubaneswar, where he met PCC leaders of Odisha, Tamil Nadu and Puducherry.

He was accompanied by Ramesh Chennithala, a senior leader from Kerala, the home state of Shashi Tharoor, the other contestant in the poll. Chennithala, who has been with Kharge throughout his visits to the states, said, "Kharge started out as a block president and has served as district and state president. He has been elected a record nine times. He was also a railway minister and Union labour minister, working for the betterment of the poor."

Kharge has addressed almost all PCC leaders and delegates, except in Rajasthan and Karnataka. On Friday, he said he will put into practice the decisions taken at the party's Udaipur Chintan Shivir.

Over the last few days, Kharge has met leaders from Northeastern states, Punjab, Haryana and Himachal Pradesh.

AICC PRESIDENT ELECTION

2nd poll: J Kripalani vs PD Tandon. Tandon won.

3d poll: Sitaram Kesari, Sharad Pawar and Rajesh Pilot contested. Kesari won

4th poll: Sonia Gandhi vs Jitendra Prasada. Sonia won.

KPCC president DK Shivakumar told TNIE, "The election is on October 17 and we will all cast our vote. Congress believes in democracy that is why we are holding a poll to choose our leader."

Other party leaders said Kharge's win is a foregone conclusion. "We like him to win with a large margin, nothing but a landslide."

If elected, Kharge will be the second All-India Congress Committee president from Karnataka after S Nijalingappa, who was picked in 1969. But this is the first time ever that a leader from Karnataka is contesting the poll as Congress has had only four Congress presidential elections in its 137-year, and this is the fifth poll. The first was when Subhas Chandra Bose won against Pattabhisitaramaiah.

Road rage: Man held for threatening BJP MLA

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Mangaluru

IN a road rage incident, the Dakshina Kannada police arrested a man for blocking Belthangady MLA Harish Poonja's vehicle with his SUV and threatening him. The arrested, Abdul Riyaz, a resident of Falnir in Mangaluru, has been booked under Sections 341(wrongful restraint), 504 and 506 of the Indian Penal Code.

In his complaint to the police, Naveen, the MLA's driver, said he picked up Poonja from the Mangalore International Airport on Thursday and took him to the circuit house in Mangaluru. After attending a meeting there, the MLA left for Belthangady in his relative's car, while Naveen followed him in another vehicle. When they reached Naguri, the accused started tailing them in his Scorpio SUV, Naveen said in the complaint.

On noticing the jeep, Naveen alerted the MLA. A little later, the accused blocked their vehicles near Farangipete fish market and threatened the MLA, the complaint stated.

However, Dakshina Kannada Superintendent of Police Rishikesh Sonawane clarified that it was a case of road rage. "The Scorpio vehicle, with Kerala registration, has been seized. The complainant has identified the accused and the vehicle. The accused does not have any prior criminal cases and we have not found any weapon on him. Further investigation is going on. The motive was road rage as the accused felt that the MLA's vehicle was not allowing him to pass," the SP said, adding that the allegation of the MLA's driver of the accused brandishing a weapon needs to be confirmed through investigation.

ANOTHER POCSO CASE FILED AGAINST MURUGHA MUTT SEER

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mysuru

ANOTHER complaint under the Protection of Children from Sexual Offences (POCSO) Act has been filed against Muruga Mutt seer Shivamurthy Murugha Sharanaru, who is in judicial custody in a case of alleged sexual assault on minor girls.

A 38-year-old woman, an assistant cook at the Mutt in Chitradurga, filed a complaint with the Nazarbad police here on Thursday, alleging that the seer sexually assaulted her two minor daughters and two other children, who were studying at the mutt school and staying at Akkamahadevi Hostel for girls students on the mutt premises. The woman alleged that the seer raped her minor daughters and two other girls between January 2019 and June 2022.

The woman said that after she separated from her husband 10 years ago, she and her daughters were staying with her parents. As she was financially poor, she got her children admitted to SJM Kannada medium school run by the mutt. She also joined the mutt's Dasoha unit as an assistant cook in 2016. Her daughters were then admitted to the mutt's hostel.

"In 2019, hostel warden Rashmi took my children to the seer's private room where he sexually assaulted them. My daughters later told me that they were raped by the seer. This continued till June 2022. As the seer is powerful politically, financially and socially and as my children are still young, and I was working with the mutt, I was afraid to file a complaint against the seer and his associates," she said.

She alleged that the children, who are 10 to 15 years old and staying at the hostel, told her that they were raped by the seer. The hostel warden used to send the children to the seer's private room by force. If the children resisted, mutt junior seer Basavaditya, staffers Paramashivaiah and Gangadhar used to threaten them. The seer's assistant, Mahalinga, and cook Karibasappa also used to take the children to his room and guard the door, she said.

The woman said as the previous complaint was filed in Mysuru, she approached the Odanadi Seva Samsthe, which helped the first two victims file a case against the seer. The woman and the four victims recorded their statements before the Child Welfare Committee and District Child Protection Unit.

An FIR has been registered against the seer, hostel warden Rashmi, junior seer Basavadithya and staffers Paramashivaiah, Gangadaraiah, Mahalinga and Karibasappa at the Nazarbad police station under the POCSO Act and IPC Sections 376 (rape) and 149 (unlawful assembly guilty of offence).

SEER MOVES HC FOR BAIL

Bengaluru: Muruga Mutt seer Shivamurthy Murugha Sharanaru has moved the Karnataka High Court for bail in a case of alleged sexual assault on minor girls. Justice JM Khazi issued notice to the state government and complainant after hearing the appeal filed by the seer, who was arrested in the case under the POCSO Act, SC and ST (Prevention of Atrocities) Act and IPC. The Special Second Additional District and Sessions Court in Chitradurga had rejected the bail of the appellant on September 23, 2022, following which, he approached the HC. The seer's counsel argued that the investigation so far as the appellant is concerned has almost been completed and as such keeping him in judicial custody will infringe his right to liberty. Therefore, the impugned order passed by the sessions court is liable to be set aside, the counsel said.

GOVT STAFFERS TO DONATE ₹80 CRORE FOR COW ADOPTION

Bengaluru: State government employees have decided to donate over Rs 80 crore to the government's 'Punyakoti' cow adoption scheme. While Group A officers are donating Rs 11,000 each, Group B and Group C officers are contributing Rs 4,000 and Rs 400 each, respectively. State Government Employees Association State President C S Shadakshari on Friday handed over a letter in this regard to Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai. A statement from the Chief Minister's Office stated that the employees gesture came in response to an appeal made by the CM in a programme recently. They have requested the government to deduct the amount from their October and November salaries. The contribution from the employees will come up to Rs 80 to Rs 100 crore. Appreciating the employees' decision, the CM said over one lakh cows are sheltered in Gausahalas run by the government. He also praised their work during the floods and the Covid-19 pandemic. Bommai said as per his earlier assurance, the government will constitute a pay commission in October to look into the employees' demand for pay revision. ENS

Yatra completes 1,000 km as it enters Ballari today

G SUBHASH CHANDRA
@ D Hirehal (Andhra Pradesh)

DK Shivakumar, Siddaramaiah and Rahul Gandhi share a light moment during the yatra

THE Bharat Jodo Yatra, led by Congress leader Rahul Gandhi, will complete the 1,000 kilometre landmark on Saturday morning when it reaches Ballari city, where the party is holding a mega-convention.

Though termed a non-political yatra, KPCC president DK Shivakumar had told TNIE, "No one is a saint in politics and Congress will reap rich dividends from this yatra."

The 3,570 kilometer march from Kanyakumari to Kashmir seems to have patched up differences between Congress leaders and energised the party by drawing big crowds. Many Congress leaders also see the yatra as an attempt to strengthen the party base ahead of the 2024 Lok Sabha and 2023 Karnataka Assembly polls.

Priyank Kharge, party communication wing chairman, told TNIE, "The yatra has come at the right time to fight BJP in the state."

On the yatra covering 1,000 km, he said, "The distance covered does not matter as this is a mission. Rahul is not interested in the number of kilometres travelled, but is concerned about its impact. When the country is at the crossroads, the yatra gives hope to the people of a future without economic inequality, unemployment and corruption by highlighting the problems created by central and state governments. Rahul is not here to create records, but to ensure that India comes back on the path of progress."

The real achievement is when Rahul stands in Kashmir, completing the mission that it was set out for. That is to protect the idea of India that our forefathers had envisioned, Priyank said.

He accepted that Rahul is following the legacy of his grandmother Indira Gandhi. "Nothing wrong in following in her footsteps. His steely resolve might have come from her. During an interaction with civil workers, Rahul told them to be lionesses, otherwise no one will take note of them and their problems. 'My grandmother was a lioness and I drew inspiration from her', Rahul told them."

From peanuts to Buddha statues, it is raining gifts

KIRAN BALANNANAVAR @ Ballari

CROSSING three states in the last 35 days as part of the Bharat Jodo Yatra, Congress MP Rahul Gandhi has been collecting a large number of gifts. So much so that an entire container is now filled up with the gifts he received from the public and Congress leaders and workers.

Art pieces, portraits of Rahul Gandhi and grains, including groundnuts, are safely locked in the container that is following the yatra for over a month. There are 50 such containers that are part of the Yatra to provide accommodation and various facilities to Rahul, a dedicated team of people who have been walking with him from Day 1 from Kanyakumari and the support staff.

In the last 330 km that Rahul has covered in the state, he has been bestowed with gifts and mementoes by his fans and well-wishers. Statues of Buddha and farmed photos of Dr BR Ambedkar topped the gift list. He is likely to receive another big horde when he arrives in Ballari and completes the momentous 1,000 km of the journey.

Ballari Rural MLA B Nagendra said that several individuals and organisations in the district have sought permission to felicitate Rahul. "More gifts and mementoes are waiting for our leader. It is a great gesture by him to interact with people and party workers. He welcomes everyone with a smile and it is a great feeling for ground level workers who are the backbone of the party," he said.

Mohammad Rafique G S, Block Congress Committee president, said Ballari has been the favourite place of Gandhis for many years. "The motto of the yatar is to create harmony among people and we are happy that the main event of the Yatra in Karnataka is being organised in Ballari. Lakhs of people are expected to attend the event on Friday," he said.

Most LSD cases not showing symptoms: Vet

PROF B M Veeregowda, Professor at Karnataka Veterinary, Animal and Fisheries Sciences University told The New Indian Express that though Karnataka witnessed its first case in 2020, in the last two years, a few cases were reported in a few districts. There was no death reported in the last two years. But the fatalities were reported this year, especially during the last couple of months.

Explaining further, Prof Veeregowda said, "In cases reported in the last few weeks, lumps are seen growing in the cattle's stomach, lungs, throat and other internal organs which is not visible. The worrying factor is that, in many cases, there is in no sign or symptoms including fever. "Since it's raining, water is stagnant at many places allowing mosquitoes and flies to breed faster. These flies and mosquitoes feed on infected cattle and fly to far away places, spreading the virus. This is why we are taking up ring vaccination which means all cattle within 5 km radius from the infected cattle will be vaccinated," he added.

Prof Veeregowda also pointed out that infected cows are giving at least 10 to 20 per cent lesser milk than before, while infected oxen are finding it difficult to plough the field or work in farms.

The CM also said that as many as 6.57 lakh cattle have been vaccinated. The vaccination must be done on a priority in the districts which are affected the most and 15 lakh doses of vaccine should be acquired from companies approved by Union government. Sources in the department, however, say it takes at least 15 days for vaccinated cattle to become immune.

Fit-as-a-fiddle RaGa impresses all

AMIT S UPADHYE @Ballari

WALKING amidst a large crowd under heavy rainfall as well as in sunny days, Congress leader Rahul Gandhi's fitness has surprised all. It's not just party leaders who are unable to keep up with the 52-year-old former Congress president, even his team of yatris say you have to be fit to keep up with him.

Till Friday, Rahul's Bharat Jodo Yatra completed 1,000 km through four states -- Andhra Pradesh, Karnataka, Kerala and Tamil Nadu. Photos of Rahul addressing a crowd in Mysuru region amidst heavy rain won many hearts. His vigorous walking, interaction with the crowd and locals is a result of two years of hard work, say yatris accompanying Rahul.

"For the last two years, Rahul was preparing for a unique tour of India, both mentally and physically. Working out and strict diet has kept him fit at this age. He has been walking 20-25 km daily on an average in the last one month. Before embarking on the morning leg of yatra, where Rahul covers about 15 km, he spends 30 minutes in a mobile gym," said a Congress official.

Besides keeping himself fit, Rahul's diet is also attracting queries. While sprouts and dry fruits make his morning diet, idli and dosa have been his favourite breakfast items for the last one month. "There is not much change in the diet for Rahul due to the yatra, but the timing of his food intake has changed a bit. He has been eating all dishes he likes, including ice cream for dinner," the official added.

"We have been walking with Rahul for the last two weeks and it's a great feeling to keep pace with our leader. We have been planning for the yatra in Ballari for the last three months," said a Congress worker.

Ballari District Congress President Mohammad Rafiq said party workers are in upbeat mood with their leader arriving in the district.

Yatra just a fitness show for Rahul, says Shobha

Udupi: Union Minister of State for Agriculture and Farmers' Welfare Shobha Karandlaje on Friday termed the Bharat Jodo Yatra as a fitness show for Congress leader Rahul Gandhi. "Is he capable of leading the nation when he is not able to lead his own party? Rahul's dream of matching the stature of PM Narendra Modi will remain a dream," Karandlaje said addressing the media. Regarding the Supreme Court's split verdict on the hijab case, Karandlaje said the larger bench of the court may do justice to women from the Muslim community. Hijab should not be forced on Muslim women. What they need is proper education for their empowerment, she added. ENS

K'TAKA REGISTERS FIRST CASE UNDER ANTI-CONVERSION LAW

23-year-old held, accused of converting 18-year-old girl after luring, marrying her

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

A 23-year-old man working at a chicken stall was arrested by the Yeshwanthpur police on Thursday night under the Karnataka Protection of Right to Freedom of Religion Act for reportedly luring and marrying an 18-year-old girl. This is the first case registered under the newly passed law, commonly known as the anti-conversion law, that was notified on September 30.

The arrested, Syed Mueen, is a resident of BK Nagar in Yeshwanthpur. He has been accused of converting the girl to Islam after luring her on the promise of marriage. The girl's family, which hails from Gorakhpur in Uttar Pradesh, has been staying in Bengaluru for the last 10 years.

"The police have acted based on a complaint filed by the girl's mother. The accused was arrested on Thursday night and has been remanded in judicial custody. The police are in the process of recording the girl's statement. A case has been registered under Section 5 of the new Act against Mueen," Vinayak Patil, Deputy Commissioner of Police (North), told TNIE.

As per Section 5, forced conversion is punishable with three to five years of imprisonment along with a fine of Rs 25,000.

Surendra Yadav, the girl's father, is a painter and Gyanti Devi is her mother.

Devi filed a complaint with the police on October 5. She had stated that the accused was behind her daughter for the last six months. The police had registered a missing person's case. However, religious conversion was not suspected in the first complaint. The girl returned on October 8 and told her parents that she had converted to Islam. After efforts to change her mind to leave Mueenfailed, Devi filed the second complaint on Thursday.

The police found out that the girl had not adhered to the procedure that needed to be followed under the new law. Mueen is said to have married her after the conversion at a dargah in Penukonda in Andhra Pradesh. The girl has told the police that she was not forced into conversion and she did it of her own will.

PROCEDURE

A declaration in Form I should be given to the district magistrate 30 days in advance by any person desiring to change religion. People performing conversion must also submit a declaration in Form II at least 30 days in advance. Objections will be called and inquiry conducted if any objections are received within 30 days. Intention, purpose and cause for the proposed conversion should be established in the inquiry.

'Rao asked me to go on leave, switch off phone'

"ON two occasions, Riyaz asked me to go and meet Nagaraj and said his driver would hand over Rs 1 lakh. Accordingly, I went and collected a packet from Nagaraj's driver outside the gate of the Lokayukta office and gave it to Riyaz. On another occasion, I collected a packet from the driver at the MS building and gave it to Riyaz", Pramod testified.

Pramod also said that he collected a letter from a person at Siddaiah Circle and gave it to Riyaz, who was at a hotel with Ashwin Rao, Nagaraj and another person. Pramod said that Riyaz asked him to collect a letter from the then BDA commissioner Shyam Bhatt and he (Pramod) waited for Bhat at his office who was in a meeting. However, Bhat told him that the letter was not ready and he would inform his officer as soon as it was ready.

The accused persons allegedly used the mobile phones of Pramod, who had two phones, to make calls. "Sometimes, Riyaz used my mobile number and also asked whether I was having another mobile number. As I said yes, he took the phone and spoke to Ashwin, Bhasker and Ashok Kumar," Pramod deposed, adding that on one occasion Justice Rao spoke to his son Ashwin through the same phone.

Another witness, Sandeep Kumar, who worked as a cook in Lokayukta's residence, deposed that he was asked by Lokayukta Rao to go on leave for 15 days and switch off his mobile phone after the news of the fraud in the institution broke out. When he returned, he was asked to resign.

"Bhaskar used to come to Lokayukta's residence along with Ashwin. They used to talk in the office (at the residence) and outside the residence. Bhaskar used to sit on the chair of the Lokayukta. They also used to talk to other visitors who used to come. I used to receive the bag as per their instructions. Some other person used to come and hand over the bag outside the residence and I used to receive the same and keep it in the room as suggested by Ashwin," Kumar testified.

Meanwhile, Ninganagouda B Hosamani, a contractor who was looking to get contract works, has said that he was taken to a hotel in Hyderabad to meet Ashwin. There, the accused Bhaskar and another person Shivayogi Hiremutt informed that Ashwin was the grandson of former Prime Minister P V Narasimha Rao.

Civil supplies dept pulls up Swiggy for delivery boys not speaking Kannada

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @Bengaluru

THE Department of Food, Civil Supplies and Consumer Affairs has written to Swiggy for 'inefficiency' in service as its delivery boys do not speak Kannada causing inconvenience to customers.

The letter was shot off by the department Commissioner to the Swiggy general manager on October 10 after KDA Chairman TS Nagabharana complained to the department about inconvenience caused to customers. The letter pointed out that Swiggy has not made any attempt to teach Kannada to its delivery agents. Swiggy authorities were told to reply within three days.

Officials said that since the issue concerns Kannada, the complaint does not come directly under the department, but it was still taken up as it relates to inconvenience caused to consumers. "We have sought an explanation. Orally, we have told them to get the help of KDA or any other organisation or hire someone who can train delivery agents in Kannada," the sources said. It was the third letter sent to Swiggy.

On Friday, Swiggy replied, "Please accept our sincere apologies... We absolutely deter this sort of service and will take this instance as a learning curve to improve ourselves and provide with nothing less than the perfect experience going forward."

Nagabharana said services should be offered in the local language, and in Karnataka, it is Kannada. "We are ready to provide a teaching platform. If 25 people want to learn in one place, we will make arrangements to teach spoken Kannada free of cost," he said.

Vande Bharat Exp to link Chennai, B'luru, Mysuru

B ANBUSELVAN @ Chennai

FOUR years after Integral Coach Factory (ICF), Chennai, rolled out the first rake of the semi-high-speed train set Vande Bharat, Southern Railway was allotted its first rake.

The first train set of Vande Bharat, an upgraded version, is to be introduced on the Chennai - Bengaluru - Mysuru section replacing the existing Shatabdi Express. The train is to be flagged by the Prime Minister on November 10 and the inaugural function is expected to be conducted in Bengaluru or Mysuru, according to Railway sources.

However, the travel time of the train may not come down immediately as the track upgradation work to run the trains at 130 kmph is yet to be completed in the 214 km Chennai - Jolarpettai section.

The speed limit of trains in Jolarpettai - Bengaluru - Mysuru (283 km) section too has not been enhanced, said officials from South Western Railway.

The Shatabdi Express covers 497 km from Chennai to Mysuru within seven hours and the return journey in 7 hours and 15 minutes. The trains stop at Katpadi and Bengaluru.

The Vande Bharat train can be operated at 160 kmph. The maximum permitted sectional speed between Chennai - Mysuru is 110 kmph.

Vande Bharat 2.0 trains come fitted with the Train Collision Avoidance System (TCAS) called KAVACH, which the previous trains did not have. Coaches are equipped with disaster lights with a battery backup of three hours.

The train's exterior has eight flatform-side cameras, up from four. There is also a passenger-guard communication facility in coaches, which comes with an automatic voice recording feature.

The Railways had recently launched the third and the fourth Vande Bharat Express from election-bound states of Gujarat and Himachal Pradesh.

Suresh Gopi at core as BJP plans Kerala entry

SOVI VIDYADHARAN @ T'Puram

SIGNALLING its intention to make Suresh Gopi the party's face in Kerala, the BJP national leadership is learnt to have directed its state unit to induct the actor-politician into the core committee – its topmost decision-making body in the state.

This is the first time a relatively new political entrant is finding a place in BJP's apex body. There is also a plan to make the former MP the party's Kerala president, it is reliably learnt. "An arrangement is being planned where Gopi will assume the party chief post and a staunch party member will be made the working president to manage its day-to-day affairs. In case the ex-MP wins a parliament seat, the working chief will be made president," said a national leader. Sources said the move clearly indicates Gopi will be asked to take up the chief post by the end of this year.

Suresh Gopi

The BJP Kerala unit is learnt to have agreed to Gopi's induction into the core committee, albeit reluctantly. BJP state president K Surendran told reporters that the former MP can make "significant contributions" to the party. "If your reports are true and he comes (to the core committee) , I will be the happiest person," he said.

The national leadership's directive came close on the heels of Prime Minister Narendra Modi expressing displeasure over 'familiar faces' continuing at the helm of the party's Kerala unit, during the core committee meeting recently.

He had also pointed out the absence of a woman representative in the panel. Internal surveys by BJP had indicated that Gopi's ascension would benefit the party.

KARNATAKA RANKS SIXTH IN GOVERNANCE INDEX

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

KARNATAKA ranked sixth in the Public Affairs Index (PAI) 2022 report, which was released on Friday, providing insights based on evidence into the governance of a state. The assessment is done using data from central government data sources.

The states are divided into two categories — large and small — and the assessment is done based on data from the central government. Union Territories are not part of the report. Haryana emerged as the best governed state among 18 large states while Sikkim bagged the top spot among 10 small states.

The Public Affairs Centre (PAC) Director, G Gurucharan, said that the objective of the report is to dispel subjectivity using values, weights and ranks to demonstrate the quality of governance.

He explained that in the seventh edition of the Index, a conceptual change was adopted to assess the quality of governance during 2021 -22. The indicators used to measure the performance are primarily drawn from the Constitution. PAI 2022 saw a methodological shift to introducing a Multi-Criteria Decision Making (MCDM) approach.

G Gurucharan, Director, Public Affairs Centre

Former chairman of PAC, Dr A Ravindra said the political discourse in the country had taken a confrontational turn, especially, in relation to the recent issues of hijab, regarding which views seemed to be divided. He suggested that for the next year, the index should reflect the Centre-State relation and how federalism is working in the country.

Chief guest V Sudhish Pai, a senior advocate, called the Constitution the life of the nation and a vehicle of progress. Comparing India to neighbouring countries, he called India an 'oasis' in a desert, adding that the situation in India is much better in terms of socio-political rights.

A flooded canal in Hindupur, Anantapur district, on Friday | EXPRESS

EVEN as floodwaters began receding in Anantapur town, Rivers Penna and Chitravathi are in spate following heavy inflows from upper catchment areas in Karnataka. Road connectivity to several villages in Sri Satya Sai district was cut off as causeways and bridges were under a sheet of water on Friday.

Around 40 passengers, travelling in a private bus, had a narrow escape when the vehicle got caught in a flash flood while crossing a low-level bridge on Peddavanka rivulet on Kadiri-Gorantla highway in the district. Local youth and police swung into action and evacuated the passengers using a rope. Road connectivity between Hindupur and several villages was affected as a bridge at Pochanapalli was washed away due to floods. With Srikantapuram and Kotnuru tanks overflowing, vehicular traffic between Hindupur, Kadiri and Gorantla came to a grinding halt. A truck was stranded in the floodwater of Kotnuru tank. After three days of flood fury in Anantapur town, normalcy returned as water started to recede.

Forest dept working to deploy more field staff

BOSKY KHANNA @ Bengaluru

MUCH against the decision of a recent cabinet sub-committee meeting to clip the staff strength and merge departments, the Karnataka forest department is working on a proposal to place before the government to hire more staff on the ground.

At the recent meeting, Revenue Minister R Ashoka announced the government's decision to cancel 2,000 posts in agriculture, horticulture and sericulture departments. It was also decided to reduce the number of posts of senior rank forest officials.

A senior forest department official, not wanting to be named, told TNIE that the department is working on reorganising the entire structure now. The three corporations of the forest department -- forest development corporation, forest industries corporation and cashew corporation -- will be merged into the forest department, he added.

"The present head count is being obtained from each forest circle and it is being compared with what is required. The details of other states will also be taken for comparison. There is a definite need for more staff, especially field-level staffers like watchers, range forest officers and assistant conservators. We are preparing a report on where and how much staff is required," said the senior department official.

The staff is required not just at prime tiger reserves and sanctuaries, but even at reserve forests and buffer zones. More staff is needed as cases of poaching and encroachment are on the rise. Staff is also needed in anti-poaching camps and elephant corridors, he added.

"The government's move is to shrink staff as per the 6th Pay Commission and reduce expenditure. But if cases of man-animal conflicts and compensation given in cattle, human and crop loss have to be reduced, the government needs to invest in forest staff and forest protection. At many forest patches, there is a severe shortage of assistant conservators of forests and they are managing large areas. The plan to abolish the post of ACFs cannot be accepted as they are needed to handle cases filed by the department or against the department apart from ground control," he said.

Talacauvery all set to host 'Theerthodbhava'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Madikeri

AUTHORITIES are leaving nothing to chance for 'Theerthodbhava' at Talacauvery near Bhagamandala in Kodagu on October 17. Theerthodbhava, the gushing of Cauvery water from 'Brahma Kundike' at Talacauvery, will occur at 7.21 pm on that day.

While the entry of devotees was restricted for the festival during the past two years due to the pandemic, a large number of devotees are expected to visit Talacauvery this time.

The district authorities have have taken up work to remove silt from the Cauvery at the Triveni Sangama in Bhagamandala. Temporary toilets are being set up in the temple towns of Bhagamandala and Talacauvery. A cleanliness drive in the two towns has also been launched. As part of the beautification work, the two towns will be illuminated and welcome arches will be put up in prominent places. Arrangements are being made for parking of vehicles. All basic amenities will be in place for the devotees, according to the authorities.

The Karnataka State Road Transport Corporation (KSRTC) will run special buses from Madikeri to Talacauvery for the benefit of devotees, according to KSRTC Madikeri Depot Manager Geeta. Kodagu Ekikarana Ranga will serve free food to devotees in the two temple towns from October 17 to November 17.

MATTER OF CHOICE BUT JUSTICE ELUDES HIJAB CASE GIRLS

The Supreme Court arrives at a split verdict in the 'hijab case', officially known as Aishat Shifa vs The State of Karnataka. The split is not merely in the ruling; it is also in the form of diametrically opposite world views of Justices Hemant Gupta and Sudhanshu Dhulia. The former upholds the Karnataka government's ban on hijab in government educational institutions. The latter revokes it. However, because of the split verdict, the ban stays. The Chief Justice of India now has to refer the case to a larger bench. One cannot but ask the logic behind giving a sensitive case with national repercussions to a two-judge bench, given the possibility of an indecisive ruling. The court would have its reasons, but in the end, the case must necessarily be handed over to an odd-numbered bench for a clear judgement. This causes delays. Moreover, there is no verdict as such to be subject to scrutiny. At best, the analysis can only mean revisiting the fundamental arguments involved.

The issue relates to choice, the primal right of, in this case, the girls wishing to wear the hijab. To illustrate the point, the hijab case and the Iran protests are similar. It is about the choice to wear the hijab in one case and not to wear it in the other. In India, the Union government has taken up the cause of women's welfare and empowerment, respecting their choice to conceive or abort an unwanted pregnancy, to attend school and college, and not to be forced into child marriage or forced sex even in marriage. How come a school uniform comes in the way of girls' choice to wear an additional piece of cloth?

In the Karnataka case, factors like religion and religious practice are incidental—their role is limited to identifying the students by their religion—when dealing with a matter of choice. A student gets admitted to school only for education. A uniform merely identifies the student as belonging to a specific school though some perceive it implies equality. Neither has anything to do with education. Holding the sanctity of the uniform higher than education defeats the essential spirit of the educational institution. Pushing the girls to remove their hijab outside school is insulting their choice. Denying them education when they resist is insulting their dignity.

PRUDENT HOME MACRO POLICY NEED OF HOUR

The first half of the fiscal sees a mixed macroeconomic performance, and the outlook for the second doesn't appear promising. Inflation is refusing to return to the barn, and industrial output is declining, yet India is expected to deliver a game of two halves. This, despite global headwinds exerting undue strain on the rupee, current account and trade, even as food and fuel prices and fiscal imbalances continue to weigh heavily on the country's macro outlook. Disappointingly, the idea of India decoupling from the rest of the world may not bear out, as more than the domestic factors, it's the external elements like global recession, rising energy prices, global inflation and interest rates, and strengthening dollar that is preying on the economy's nerves.

The near term will test the extent of the rupee rout and the RBI's defence through rates and forex reserves. If measures on the import side would impinge on domestic growth, opting for NRI bonds isn't as attractive without raising short-term rates first. Given an incomplete domestic recovery, letting the rupee depreciate gradually could ensure exchange rate competitiveness and help avoid a sharp fiscal consolidation. The RBI must thus deploy a judicious mix of rupee depreciation and rate hikes, ensuring positive real rates and closing the interest rate differential with developed markets. Likewise, the potential slowdown tremors in exports too will be felt across emerging markets. India isn't export-dependent, but since 45% of exports are driven by labour-intensive MSMEs, it could unleash a domino effect, starting with falling discretionary consumption to investments to production and, lastly, onto the financial sector.

In further disappointing news, the IMF confirmed that the medium-term global outlook appears more adverse than the previous ten years. If the last decade saw advanced economies struggle with low inflation, their troubles got way tougher this decade, marked by higher-than-acceptable inflation and interest rates. The Indian economic recovery is not only incomplete but also isn't immune to the aftershocks of global slowdown, which transmit through trade, commodity prices, capital flows, and financial markets.

Even if India gains from a recession-led fall in commodity prices, higher energy prices driven by geopolitical uncertainties may negate those benefits. With the external environment turning increasingly adverse, a prudent domestic macro policy must entail balancing the exchange rate, taming inflation, managing real rates, and ensuring minimal macro-prudential risks from the twin deficits—all at once.

QUICK TAKE

SPORTS BODY REFORMS

The current round of elections in the Board of Control for Cricket in India has again brought into sharp focus the systemic failures in regulating India's sports federations. The elections occurred after the Supreme Court allowed a second term for the BCCI president and secretary. The SC's ruling was a setback to the reforms being undertaken in India's richest sports body. It reversed the SC's 2018 order which introduced a cooling-off period after two terms, either in a state body or BCCI, or one term each in both. The SC's decision has helped the politicians and dealt reformists a blow.

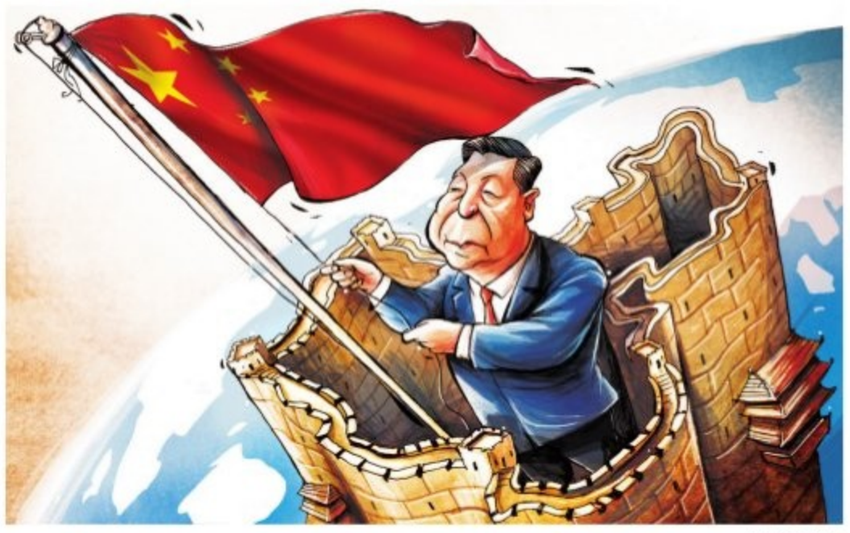
CHINA's 20th PARTY CONGRESS AND THE ROAD AHEAD

VIJAY K NAMBIAR
Former Indian Ambassador in China



SOUMYADIP SINHA

The Chinese Communist Party will hold its 20th Party Congress later this month. During the seven decades and more it has ruled China, the country has transformed from a relatively poor, backward (GDP in 1952 estimated at US$ 30 billion), strategically vulnerable, economically isolated State, culturally separated from its traditional roots, to one that has overcome extreme poverty, increased its GDP 600-fold (nominal GDP in 2022 estimated at US$ 19.91 trillion) and achieved living standards well above the world average. China today is also the largest trading economy. This spectacular achievement was principally due to the Reform and Opening up policy initiated by Deng Xiaoping in 1978.

While pursuing reform, China was not unmindful of the cautionary lessons of history. The collapse of the Soviet Union was a wake-up call for CCP leaders who realised they must strengthen the Party apparatus, adhere to Marxist-Leninist principles and resist Western liberal ideology. For a brief period during the 1980s, the parties of the Soviet Union and China had reportedly reached "consensus" that the "old system had failed and new leaders were needed to drive reform". Former Chinese Premier Zhao Ziyang even wished to emulate Mikhail Gorbachev's idea of expanding the internal election process within the CCP. But the 1989 Tiananmen crackdown put paid to any such change that could endanger the Party's grip on power.

While Deng internally insisted steadfastly on the leadership of the Party, the socialist path and Mao Thought, this did not detract him from continuing to build economic ties with the Western countries, seeking accession to the WTO, and encouraging western companies to invest in, bring technical innovation and strengthen supply chains within China. Within the Party, he stressed on institutional stability and systemic predictability by imposing age and term limits for office and succession processes, principles of collective leadership as well as power sharing between groups. While these policies contributed to the explosive growth of China's coastal regions and transformed the major cities through foreign investment, they also gave rise to an unconscionable gap between rich and poor as well as to rampant corruption and crony capitalism across the country.

With the arrival of Xi Jinping on the political horizon in 2012, a major qualitative change in China's domestic environment as well as its equation with the external world began to take place. By that time, China had already displaced Japan to become the world's second largest economy. Xi's assumption to power was different from his predecessors. As the son of a "first-generation revolutionary", Xi saw himself as a legitimate successor of the CCP "red dynasty by blood". His acquisition of power was both politically astute and brutally thorough, and his election was represented as reflecting a deeper generational and social shift within the country. Xi was able to so deeply consolidate his hold over the Party and build a personality cult around him along Maoist lines that the 19th Party Congress in October 2017 amended the party constitution to "preserve" Xi as the "core" leader forever.

Xi also systematically modified Deng's policies to fit China's emerging "new era". The "hide and bide" strategy was abandoned and China claimed an active role as "builder of world peace, contributor to global development, protector of international order and provider of public goods". Domestically, he promoted balanced attention to all regions, brought stricter Party control over private business, strengthened domestic innovative capabilities and reduced China's external dependence. His "dual circulation" strategy aimed precisely to strengthen the economy by bringing steady growth to the domestic market, while creating synergies through continued openness to the outside world. Xi's launching in 2013 of the flagship Belt and Road initiative grew to cover over 70 countries, 60% of the world's population, and 30% of its GDP. In the current turbulent global situation, however, China will increasingly proof itself against economic disruptions, sanctions and trade war threats from the West, while not losing sight of the larger goal of continuing to seek global leadership of transnational supply chains.

Notwithstanding rumours of major splits dividing the leadership, there is little dramatically new or unexpected that will emerge from the Congress. Members will rubber-stamp a proposal for a third term for Party General Secretary Xi Jinping as well as pack the Central Committee, its Politburo and Standing Committee with his nominees.

There is still anxiety and fear of mishap. Such anxiety must stem from the absence of any kind of inclusive consultations characteristic of the earlier Deng era. Unlike his immediate predecessors, Xi has made no show of collegiality or any pretence of power sharing. In consequence, the number of people estranged in the system has increased. If at a future date he is faced with issues of inadequate feedback, the need to tackle policy errors or emergencies, there will be little sympathy or support from these quarters. Pressure points in the future are likely to arise in three areas: domestically from policies towards private business as well as on taxation and regulation of the property market; pressures will also continue to be felt on the effects of his zero-Covid policies; and continued external pressures in the east (Taiwan and South China Seas), the west (Afghanistan, terrorist threats against Xinjiang and border tensions with India) as well as the hemorrhaging of BRI projects including the China Pakistan Economic Corridor (CPEC).

At a global scale, Xi Jinping seems convinced the US-led West is in terminal decline and that the space for global leadership has opened up for an Eastern coalition led by China, now in a "no-limits" alliance with Russia. When Deng had earlier spoken of the 21st century as an Asian century, he was clear that it must include a developed and self-confident India. But the new Chinese leadership has scoffed at this idea, given China's exponential growth over the past decades that has had a six-fold increase compared to India. What they refuse to note is that the gap is steadily narrowing and that by mid-century, by most parameters, India will not be far behind China. Will Xi Jinping remain leader of China during this crucial coming decade? Most observers think so. But one must not rule out the possibility, within the next decade, of China abandoning its personality cult and reverting to the institutional norms and processes laid down by its most visionary former leader.

INFLUENCING, THE SMART WAY

PRATIK KANJILAL
Editor of The India Cable

SPEAKEASY

The automated disappearance of harmless Instagram posts en masse, without review or human intervention, has led to The Wire's revelations of Facebook's 'XCheck' programme, which shields VIP users from due process. The allegation is that the posts were removed arbitrarily, only because BJP IT cell nucleus Amit Malviya said that they had to go. The nature of the content did not matter, only the person ordering the takedown did. Facebook/Meta has scoffed at the evidence produced, but the global attention that the story is drawing is doing nothing good for the platform.

To be fair, Facebook had made no secret of its allegiance in India's culture wars. PM Narendra Modi's first term had featured an extended schmoozefest with Mark Zuckerberg and his top executives. Later, the weather forecast turned blustery with allegations of partiality in policing hate speech, and Facebook's public policy head Ankhi Das quit in 2020. In 2021, it faced a parliamentary probe. Now, it is alleged to have given God-tier rights to the ham-fisted Malviya. India is not the only country where Facebook's public perception is poor. And they say that corporations work better than governments!

Historically, the US government has extended its influence far more successfully than the Silicon Valley giant is doing. One of the most successful covert operations of the post-war era offers a sharp contrast to Facebook/Meta's endless public relations meltdown. The Congress for Cultural Freedom was founded in 1950 in West Berlin to gently marshal European intellectuals and the liberal Left against the growing influence of Russian communism on academia and culture.

The conference at which the CCF was founded was attended by the finest Western thinkers and creative minds, including Bertrand Russell, Tennessee Williams, A J Ayer, Hugh Trevor-Roper, Benedetto Croce and Arthur Koestler, who drafted the manifesto.

Future shock was 16 years away. In 1966, the New York Times ran a series of stories which revealed that the CCF's operations in 35 countries were funded by the CIA through front organisations. By that time, it had launched dozens of publications, hosted conferences, instituted awards and touched hundreds of major figures in culture and politics, across continents.

CCF worked against the Russian culture blitz of the Cold War, which was out in the open and visibly successful. In India, Progress Publishers produced highly subsidised editions of party-approved Russian classics. To the general enrichment of the public, Nikolai Gogol, Ivan Turgenev, Leo Tolstoy and, strangely, a great fat edition of Mikhail Sholokov's And Quiet Flows the Don, became popular wedding presents. From the Seventies, Russia's other passion, chess, won over the metros. Madras took the lead with the Tal Chess Club, established by India's first International Master, Manuel Aaron—he was learning Russian to translate chess journals for Indians, and Russian diplomats made him an offer he couldn't refuse. The Botvinnik Chess Clubs of Bombay and Delhi, and the Alekhine Chess Club of Calcutta, were established thereafter.

These initiatives in publishing and chess looked harmless—when Vishwanathan Anand won against Russian-born Boris Gelfand in 2012, he told Vladimir Putin that he had started playing in the Tal Club, located in a Russian Cultural Centre. The Russian president responded wryly: "So we brought this upon ourselves!" Such projects in several countries were designed to demonstrate that unlike American capitalism, Soviet communism was a natural ally of the life of the mind. They slid effortlessly into the lives of urban people and were instrumental in making them look favourably upon communism.

The CCF combated this on an epic, global scale by recruiting Western liberal thinkers to the war against communism and flooding the zone. It became a cultural tsunami which touched the lives of everyone who mattered. And so, when the CIA connection was outed, almost every great thinker of the world felt used. In 1967, Stephen Spender stepped down as editor of Encounter magazine, which was founded in 1953 and benefited from CCF. Gabriel Garcia Marquez, who had written for an 'influenced' magazine, felt like a "cuckold".

In India, major successes associated with CCF included the influential magazines Imprint and Quest. The name of Minoo Masani was prominently associated with the movement. Jayaprakash Narayan took a dim view of the revelations about CCF, and concluded that no matter what benefit accrued to Indian literature and politics from publishing some of its most interesting writers on CIA money, it had to be in the CIA's interest, even if the motive was not obvious.

Actually, it was quite obvious. In Europe, the CCF wanted to urge pacifists, and others who rose above the war between capitalism and communism, to take sides. In India, Non-Alignment stood in the way of polarisation, and encouraging the non-communist Left to move to its side of the field was of benefit to the US. In addition, there was an irritating conundrum to be solved: Non-Aligned India exclusively armed by the Russians, denying American arms suppliers a market.

However, many publications helped by CCF survived its ignominious demise and achieved independence. Encounter remained in print until 1991. In India, China Report, founded by the New Delhi office of CCF, widened its ambit and is now the very respected journal of the Institute of Chinese Studies. The bilingual poet Dilip Chitre, who was involved in the original Quest, revived its spirit in New Quest in 1978, and once more, with feeling, in 2001.

There's no evidence for this, but one has always suspected that the 'foreign hand' so beloved of Mrs Gandhi, political cartoonists, satirists and CPI(M) wall artists is a race memory of the CCF operation. It was very successful in India and remains a lesson to messy babies in the geopolitical playpen, like Facebook, about how to influence without alienating.

Celebrate diversity

Apropos of Split SC Verdict on Hijab row (Oct 14). Law and order are there to preserve rights, but can never stop injustice. We must begin celebrating our uniqueness in the classroom if we are to succeed. How will the fraternity that is being developed in a uniformed classroom sustain in the real world, where everyone practises their own beliefs?

Leçon Lourdu, Puducherry

SC verdict on hijab

The ambiguous SC verdict on the hijab issue is quite unfortunate. The Karnataka government's order for a mandatory uniform to uphold secularism should not be seen as denying Muslim girls the right to education. Permitting one community to wear their religious attire is not secularism.

R Pichumani, Kumbakonam

What is secularism

Justice Gupta says that allowing a student to sport religious symbols defeats the purpose of secularism. But what about the students who wear a bindi/pottu or tilak? Aren't these religious symbols? Allowing people to follow their religion and the practices associated with it is true secularism.

Legislation need of hour

Apropos of Human sacrifice progressive Kerala's moment of shame (Oct 14). The horrendous act of human sacrifice in Kerala just for financial prosperity has shaken the entire country, especially since Kerala has the highest literacy. An anti-superstition law is the need of the hour.

Keeping roads safe

This is with reference to Stringent rules to stop road blood-spill (Oct 14). It is a commendable initiative by IIT Madras to launch '3 Gate Licencing' to reduce road accidents. While stringent rules may help in issuing licences, accidents on highways are often beyond the authorities' control. Factors like overspeeding and lack of sleep play a huge role. Public awareness can make a difference and keep roads safe.

K Jayanthi, Chennai

No more blood-spill

Apropos of Stringent rules to stop road blood-spill (Oct 14). Since most road accidents are due to negligence, rash driving, and the nexus between RTOs and driving schools, the innovation by IIT Madras is ideal. Such a technical solution befits this era and will keep roads safe.

GIS-based tags to help govt monitor infra projects soon

AMIT MUKHERJEE @New Delhi

IT will soon be mandatory for all vehicles and machinery, deployed for government infrastructure projects by developers and contractors, to have GPS tags mounted on them as the government would soon be deploying a digitised satellite-based system to monitor the ongoing projects.

The system that has been developed integrating the Geographic Information System (GIS) is being optimised to keep a check on quality of materials used in construction, track materials and vehicles deployed at sites and eliminate thefts and corrupt practices. The system is currently being tested in Karnataka on a pilot basis and the decision to implement it, making GPS tags mandatory, is expected to be notified soon.

The system, primarily developed by the Ministry of Rural Development to plan and monitor development projects in rural India, is being fine-tuned to monitor all government infrastructure projects using GIS platform and GPS devices. The platform has multi-layered maps with details of on ground geographic data and physical assets spread over 3.287 million square km, covering every inch of India. "With this application the government departments will be able to monitor the infra-projects on a real-time basis and even keep digital records on a timeline of all infrastructure development projects," said Nagendra Nath Sinha, Secretary, Ministry of Rural Development. The application which has been developed using the GIS data platform will be able to monitor projects real time, using GPS tags, and aimed at ensuring high-quality. sustainable and durable projects at optimised cost, Sinha said.

"The applicaion which has been developed on a digitised platform integrating extensive Geospatial data and multi-layered maps, will also eliminate illegal practices which have led to inflated cost and poor quality of constructions in the past," Sinha asserted.

He added that under the new information sharing policy of geospatial data, certain data developed on the GIS platform are now available on public platform so that it can be used by infrastructure developers to plan detailed project reports (DPRs) for future projects.

N-powered sub Arihant testfires ballistic missile

Launch is being seen as a major milestone to further boost India's indigenous strategic strike capabilities

MAYANK SINGH @New Delhi

Moving ahead with the indigenous nuclear attack submarine programme, the Indian Navy Ship (INS) Arihant on Friday carried out a successful launch of a Submarine Launched Ballistic Missile (SLBM) in the Bay of Bengal.

Informing about the launch, Ministry of Defence (MoD) in a statement said, "The missile was tested to a predetermined range and impacted the target area in the Bay of Bengal with very high accuracy. All operational and technological parameters of the weapon system have been validated."

The successful user training launch of the SLBM by INS Arihant is significant to prove crew competency and validate the SSBN (subsurface ballistic nuclear) submarine programme, a key element of India's nuclear deterrence capability. "A robust, survivable and assured retaliatory capability is in keeping with India's policy to have 'Credible Minimum Deterrence' that underpins its 'No First Use' commitment," MoD added min its statement.

Air Chief Marshal VR Chaudhari in August had reaffirmed the sanctity of nuclear weapon's deterrence value calling it "still effective".

This, as per the Chief, has been proven by the skirmishes which continue between Russia and Ukraine while NATO countries under the US leadership are assisting Ukraine to continue holding its ground against Russia.

"Nuclear deterrence is still effective. It is an important takeaway for us. Skirmishes have been going on for over six months under a nuclear overhang," he said.

The INS Arihant is the first of the four Arihant class attack submarines developed indigenously and is seen as an important component of India's nuclear triad. The submarine is of 6,000-tonne displacement with a length of 110 metres and a breadth of 11 metres. These submarines are designed to carry K4 and K15 SLBMs.

A nuclear triad is a three layered military force structure that consists of nuclear bombs and missiles that can be launched through land, water and air. The land-based intercontinental ballistic missiles (ICBMs), submarine-launched ballistic missiles (SLBMs), and strategic bombers are the components of the triad.

The aim with the nuclear triad is to deter the enemy from initiating a first-strike attack as the reactionary second strike, would lead to an unbearable damage and cost to the attacking country.

The Indian Navy's tryst with nuclear powered submarines began in January 1988 with a nuclear attack submarine, INS Chakra, leased from the USSR. Meanwhile, the Indian Navy's Advanced Technology Vessel project was taking shape in the 1990s. This fructified with INS Arihant getting inducted in August 2016. The second in the class, INS Arighat, was launched in November 2021.

India is among a select group of countries having nuclear-powered submarines. The countries that have such assets are: the US, Russia, the UK, France and China.

SC no to grant urgent listing of plea on election freebies

SHRUTI KAKKAR @New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday refused to urgently list a petition filed by BJP leader Ashwini Upadhyay seeking to direct the ECI to restrain political parties from disturbing freebies during elections.

Against the backdrop of upcoming elections in the states of Gujarat and Himachal Pradesh, Upadhyay urged the bench of CJI UU Lalit and Justice Hemant Gupta to list the matter. "There are elections in Gujarat and they're making promises of irrational freebies," Upadhyay submitted.

Turning down Upadhyay's plea, CJI said, "We'll make a note. They are not matters which are urgent. Send them to my chambers."

On August 26, a bench of CJI NV Ramana, Justices Hima Kohli and CT Ravikumar had asked the three judge bench to consider whether its 2013 judgment which held that promises of freebies is not an electoral offense or corrupt practice needs to be overruled or not.

The 2013 judgement had held that State distributing freebies in the form of colour TVs, laptops, mixer-grinders etc. to eligible and deserving persons was directly related to directive principles of the State Policy.

The court had also opined that there were some issues which required extensive hearing before passing any concrete orders.

The issues which were flagged by the bench related to scope of judicial intervention with respect to ban of freebies and whether appointment of expert commission to put forth suggestions on the issue would serve any purpose.

"Freebies may create a situation where in the state government cannot provide basic amenities due to lack of funds and the state is pushed towards imminent bankruptcy. In the same breath, we should remember that such freebies are extended utilizing tax payers money only for increasing the popularity of the party and electoral prospects," the bench said.

Upadhyay's plea had contended that political parties arbitrarily promising irrational freebies for wrongful gain to lure voters in their favour was analogous to bribery and undue influences.

'Conviction even if no weapon recovered'

The SC on Friday said an accused in a murder case can be convicted even in the absence of recovery of the crime weapon, if there is direct evidence in the form of an eyewitness. The SC set aside the June 2018 verdict of the Madras HC which had acquitted three accused in a murder case. The bench noted that one of the prosecution witnesses was an eyewitness and he fully supported the case.

Govt: Electoral bond scheme transparent

Defending the electoral bond scheme, the central government on Friday told the SC that the methods of receiving money through electoral bonds has been transparent. S-G T. No stay on probe into WhastApp policy

'Jain unsound mind': Petitioner rapped

The Supreme Court on Friday rapped a petitioner for filing a plea seeking to declare jailed minister Stayendra Jain as "person with unsound mind" and disqualifying him from Assembly on this ground. Calling the plea ridiculous, the bench of Justices SK Kaul and AS Okay while dismissing the petition imposed cost of `20,000. Jain was arrested by ED in a money laundering case.

SC refuses urgent hearing on plea on firecrackers

SHRUTI KAKKAR @New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday refused to accord urgent hearing on a plea relating to ban on firecrackers, saying Diwali is round the corner and people must have invested money in the firecracker business.

"Sorry. We would not list that matter now. Diwali is round the corner. You come in the nick of time. People must have invested money in firecrackers business. You should have come two months earlier," a bench comprising Chief Justice U U Lalit and Justice Hemant Gupta said.

"We would not be able to deal with this matter. Otherwise, look at the consequences of this. Any injunction and those people are out of business," the bench told the counsel, who mentioned the matter for urgent listing. The counsel told the bench the matter pertains to this year's firecracker ban in Delhi and some other states. "Sorry. It will be done after Diwali," the bench said.

The apex court had on Thursday refused to accord urgent hearing to a plea against an order banning storage, sale, and use of all types of firecrackers in the national capital till January 1, 2023.

The top court had asked the lawyer, who had mentioned the matter on Thursday and sought urgent hearing, to approach the Delhi High Court. The Delhi HC had earlier deferred hearing on the plea of green cracker merchants against the blanket ban on firecrackers till January 1.

On October 10, the apex court had refused to stay the Delhi government's order banning storage, sale, and use of all varieties of firecrackers till January 1 to check pollution levels in the national capital, saying it did not want to add to the air pollution. The top court had last year clarified there is no blanket ban on the use of firecrackers and only those fireworks which contain barium salts are prohibited.

In 2020, the National Green Tribunal banned the sale of all types of firecrackers in any district with AQI of 201 or more. The air quality index having readings between zero and 50 is termed as 'good', 51 and 100 'satisfactory', 101 and 200 'moderate', 201 and 300 'poor', 301 and 400 'very poor', and 401 and 500 'severe'.

Despite the ban on crackers in 2021, the AQI for places in Delhi and those surrounding Delhi too remained poor.

UGC-NET students upset over distant exam centres

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @New Delhi

JUST like CUET, many students taking the UGC-NET exams have complained that they had to travel to far-off places for their examination centres, some even 800 km away from their homes.

Social media has been bombarded with complaints from aspirants, who requested the National Testing Agency (NTA), which conducts the exam, to look into the matter urgently.

Speaking with this newspaper, NTA director general Vineet Joshi said that over 1,000 grievances of students, who wrote to them about centre change, were addressed. "Today was the last day of the examination. Those who missed taking it will have to take it next time. We tried to accommodate as many students as possible who wrote to us on our authorised email id," Joshi said. Over 1 lakh students took the University Grants Commission-National Eligibility Test exam on Friday, the last day of the final and fourth phase examinations, which are conducted to determine the eligibility for the post of assistant professor and Junior Research Fellowship award in Indian universities and colleges. NTA conducts the exam on behalf of the UGC.

As many students were not able to take the exam, they flooded social media with complaints about their examination centres located in far-flung areas, with many raising the issue that aspirants of the Common University Entrance Test (CUET) also faced a similar situation. Many CUET aspirants had to miss the crucial exam for admission to undergraduate courses.

Ukraine war clouds G20: No meeting brings consensus, no statement issued

YESHI SELI @New Delhi

The Ukraine conflict has clouded G20 meetings as none of the meetings held after the outbreak of the war has been able to arrive at a consensus as a result of which no joint statement has been issued.

"Indonesia, which is chairing the G20 presidency, has been struggling to get a consensus on outcome documents. There is a difference between how the West and Russia view the conflict. The Western nations use strong words against Russia, which it don't accept. As a result of which there has been no consensus and no joint statement," say sources.

With tensions between the West and Russia intensifying, convening all members of the grouping in the same room has been a challenge too. India is optimistic that it can bring its unique position and set of relationships with all major G20 countries to bear as it takes over as chair.

The G20 Summit is taking place in Bali next month (November 15th and 16th) and most heads of G20 states, including Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Russian President Vladimir Putin, Chinese Premier Xi Jingpin are expected to attend. "The consensus issue will continue even during the Summit in Bali, so there will only be chair declaration in Bali," say sources.

Argentina, Australia, Brazil, Canada, China, France, Germany, India, Indonesia, Italy, Japan, Republic of Korea, Mexico, Russia, Saudi Arabia, South Africa, Türkiye, the United Kingdom, the United States, and the European Union are members of the G20.

Meanwhile, at present G20 finance ministers meeting is going on in Washington which is being attended by 13 finance ministers. India's finance minister Nirmala Sitaraman is a part of this meeting.

Sitaraman hosted a breakfast meeting in Washington on Thursday which was attended by the US Treasury Secretary, Janet Yellen. She also held bilateral with her G20 counterparts. "Sitharaman attended the annual meetings of the International Monetary Fund and the World Bank, met her counterparts from Japan, South Korea, Saudi Arabia, Netherlands, and Egypt. From the neighbourhood, she met her counterpart from Bhutan. She also engaged with multilateral institutions and met the head of the Financial Action Task Force, the United Nations Development Programme, and OECD," sources add.

India hopes it can bring G20 members closer

Cheetahs' shifting to larger enclosures delayed

CHANDAN NANDY @New Delhi

IN an unexpected turn of events, the shifting of the eight cheetahs, which were brought from Namibia and released in small quarantine bomas on September 17, to larger enclosures at the Kuno National Park (KNP) will be delayed "slightly", a senior member of the recently reconstituted Cheetah Task Force (CTF) told this newspaper on Friday.

Madhya Pradesh Principal Chief Conservator of Forests and Chief Wildlife Warden J S Chauhan, who is on the CTF, said that there "will be a slight delay in shifting the cheetahs to the larger enclosures". According to the original schedule, the felines were to be moved to nine separate areas within a "predator proof" 6-sq-km fenced zone within KNP on October 17. The finale date of release will depend on the recommendation of the CTF.

While Chauhan was only prepared to say that the delay will be on account of the rigorous health tests and checks that "each individual cheetah" will be subjected to before they are moved to the larger enclosure, other CTF sources said that the big cats will not be let into the larger enclosures at least before Diwali.

The source said that holding back the cheetahs in their quarantine bomas before their "soft release" was based on the advice of experts from the Namibian Cheetah Conservation Fund (CCF) who had accompanied the animals on their transcontinental flight to India. CCF experts are also monitoring "every aspect" of the cheetahs.

While sources said that the delay was also because of the CTF's reconstitution last month as a new nominee from the Wildlife Institute of India (WII), Dr Vishnupriya Kolipakam, took the place of Yadvendradev Jhala, the Dean and senior scientist. Peeved for not being included on the CTF, Jhala proceeded on leave and is now in the US. WII sources said that he was expected to return on October 22 but will rejoin work after Diwali. Unlike Jhala, Kolipakam is not a cheetah expert.

No benefits: 4-child limit policy adopted in Manipur

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Guwahati

TAKING a leaf out of Assam's book, Manipur has decided not to extend the benefits of various beneficiary schemes to families with more than four children. The decision was taken at a state cabinet meeting, chaired by Chief Minister N Biren Singh, on Thursday evening. The cabinet approved the establishment of the Manipur State Population Commission and implementation of it as an ordinance.

Minister Sapam Ranjan told reporters that under the population commission, families with more than four children would not be considered for the benefits of various beneficiary projects from now on.

"Earlier, the state Assembly had adopted a private member resolution to establish the population commission," he said.

On January 1 last year, the Assam government had implemented the Population and Women Empowerment Policy of Assam. It made persons with more than two children ineligible for government jobs and election to the panchayats and civic bodies.

The Manipur minister said the cabinet held a detailed discussion on the issues of possession of fake Aadhaar cards and violation of Inner Line Permit (ILP) norms by elements. The ILP is an official travel document that allows inward travel of Indian citizens from other states to the protected states of Manipur besides Nagaland, Mizoram and Arunachal Pradesh for a limited period.

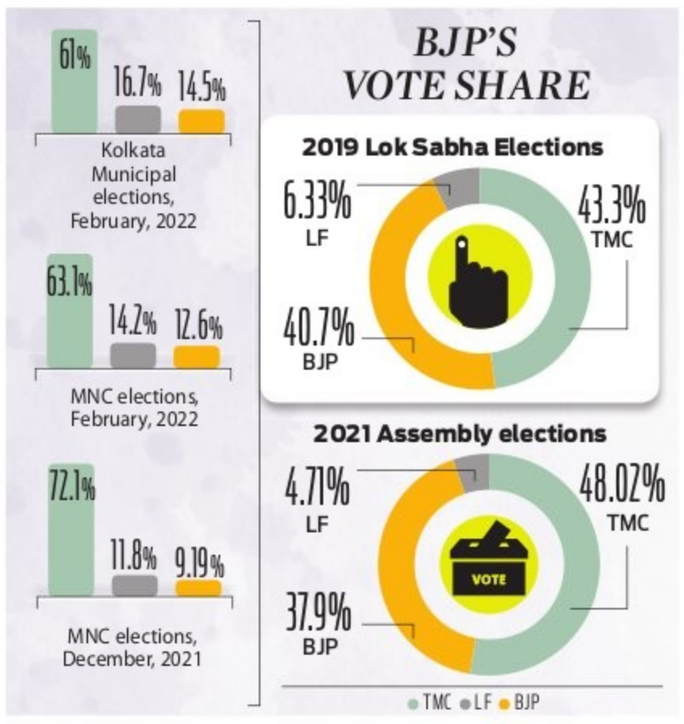
According to official figures, Manipur's hill districts recorded a population growth of 153.3% from 1971 to 2001 and 250% from 2001-2011.

Earlier, alarmed by the alleged influx of illegal immigrants from Bangladesh, Nepal besides Myanmar, 19 tribal organisations of the state had urged the Centre to set up "centres of operation" for the immediate detection and deportation of the illegal immigrants.

In a joint memorandum, they had urged PM Narendra Modi to safeguard the genuine citizens through the implementation of the National Register of Citizens or NRC.

25% increase in RSS shakhas in West Bengal

Sangh's figures have come following stock-taking by top leadership in Nagpur about its activities in the state



EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

CALL it a Hindutva rate of growth: Amid a squeeze in the BJP's vote share in all elections post 2021 Assembly elections in West Bengal, the saffron party's ideological mentor, the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh (RSS), claims its branches in the state have increased by 25 per cent in one year.

The Sangh figures came after its leadership in Nagpur wanted to know about the organization's activities in the state in one year before its four-day annual meeting beginning October 15 in UP's Prayagraj.

RSS sources said a large number of branches increased in East and West Midnapore, northern part of Hooghly and rural areas of Howrah.

Ajay Nandi, the RSS sanghchalak in Eastern Kshetra, said the exact number of branches could be ascertained after the organization's meeting post-Diwali. "The number of branches increased by 25 per cent and at the same time, our social activities too gained pace post Covid. We have continued to carry out our activities at grassroots levels," he said.

The four districts, where the number of branches increased, are known strongholds of the ruling Trinamool Congress. Political observers found Sangh's expansion was likely to have an impact in the rural civic body elections scheduled next year .

"BJP's performance in the 2019 Lok Sabha and 2021 Assembly elections reflected the contribution of Sangh and its affiliates. Though the party's vote share dropped after the last year's Assembly polls, the recently increased activities of the Sangh are expected to result in new dividends in panchayat elections," said Dr Bishnupriya Dutta Gupta, a professor of political science. In the 2019 general election, BJP's vote share was over 40% in the state. It dropped to 12 per cent in the civic elections held in February this year.

Sangh sources, however, said the organization does not work keeping in mind the elections schedule. "We carry out our social activities round-the-year," said a Sangh activist.

Dilip Ghosh, BJP's national vice-president, said there was an ideological impact of the Sangh on the party. "The ideological influence is directly or indirectly reflected in the politics. But for securing an electoral dividend, we will have to strengthen the party's organization and carry out a movement against the ruling party's misrule. Otherwise, we will not be able to perform well even if the Sangh becomes a stronger organization," he said.

BJP Bengal to invite Amit Shah for Diwali

BJP Bengal chapter is desperate to invite Union Home minister Amit Shah to the state during Diwali or Kali Puja this month. Having missed a political opportunity during Durga Puja, the state's saffron camp is now working hard to bring Shah to Bengal during Diwali. Earlier, ahead of the Bengal's biggest festival, the state chapter of the saffron camp failed to send a proposed schedule for Shah. A section of party leaders then mounted pressure on the state functionaries to bring Shah for the upcoming Diwali festival. But sources in the BJP said chances of Shah's Bengal visit in Diwali are unlikely.

Ensure green and noiseless Diwali: HC

A division bench of Calcutta High Court directed the police and state pollution control board along with union government organisations - National Environmental Engineering Research Institute (NEERI) and Petroleum and Explosives Safety Organisation (PESO) - to jointly monitor to ensure only green fireworks are burst during the upcoming Diwali festival. The bench asked the pollution control board and the state to submit a report and fixed the next hearing date after the Court's Puja vacation ends. The directive was issued in response to a PIL moved by Sabuj Mancha, an environment platform, in 2021.

Jadavpur alumni in US to raise funds for labs

A group of former students of Jadavpur University (JU) in the US, who have been raising funds for the maintenance of the university's laboratories, used the occasion of Durga Puja being held in the Bay Area in California to disseminate the message about the Global Jadavpur University Alumni Foundation (GJUAF). The foundation works as a platform to raise resources for the university. The foundation is aiming to raise 100,000 USD by November to support their alma matter which is facing acute fund crunch. Recently, JU's V-C Suranjan Das had said the institute needs funds to overhaul its infrastructure.

Drone delivery: NIA conducts raids in Poonch

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

THE National Investigation Agency (NIA) on Friday conducted searches at multiple locations in the border district of Poonch district in Jammu and Kashmir in connection with a drone delivery case.

Sources said the NIA sleuths assisted by police and paramilitary personnel conducted searches at multiple locations in Poonch.

During the raid at village Dhanna in Sawjiyan area, close to the Line of Control, a person identified as Mohammad Zaman was detained, the sources said. The suspect was detained a thorough search was conducted at his residence.

Sources said mobile phones and some documents were seized by NIA sleuths from Zaman during the searches.

According to sources, Zaman had travelled to Pakistan and the NIA sleuths would be questioning about the motive of his visit to Pakistan.

There have been over two dozen sightings of Pakistani drones along the LoC and international border in J&K this year so far. The drones are being used by Pakistani troops to drop weapons and narcotics close to the border for fomenting militancy and financing militancy in J&K.

The fresh NIA raids took place three days after the sleuths of premier investigation agency conducted raids at 18 locations in J&K and arrested the chairperson of Al Huda Educational Trust (AHET) based in Rajouri in the union territory, an alleged frontal group of banned Jamaat-e-Islami, in a case related to alleged criminal activities and terror funding.

The NIA is probing major militancy cases in J&K besides the terror funding cases.

BSF shoots down drone in Punjab on Pak border

The Border Security Force shot down one along in Gurdaspur sector of the Indo-Pak international border in Punjab on Friday.

Sources said that a drone was spotted at 4.35 am over the Rosa Post BOP by the 89 battalion of while they were on patrolling duty. The troops opened fire and shot down the drone. A total 17 rounds of ammunition was used to take the drone down, officials said.

Meanwhile, a search operation is under way in the vicinity to check if any illegal consignment was dropped by the drone in the Indian border. "Drones from Pakistan are used to drop drugs and weapons inside. According to official in last two months fifteen drones were sighted," said an official.

As per the information, overall 192 Pakistani drones entered into Indian territory from Pakistan in last 9 months, out of which 8 were shot down.

Mokama: Land of Chhote Sarkar preps for yet another poll battle

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

BIHAR'S Mokama could be rich in content for the Bollywood stuff and poor in its existential survival. It possesses a vast swathe of 'diara' area -- the fertile Gangetic riverine belt that thrives on lentil harvest and fisheries -- to its south, around 90km from the state capital Patna.

Another claim to its fame is the town's location: it lies sandwiched between north and south Bihar. Mokama is also known for Chhote Sarkar, the RJD MLA Anant Singh.

Anant stands disqualified from the Assembly after his conviction in a case related to the recovery of arms and ammunition, including an AK-47 rifle, from his residence. That has led to the Mokama by-election due November 3. Possession of firearms is not peculiar to Mokama as land disputes are common in the area. Almost all houses are said to stock some weapon or the other.

In the run-up to the by-election, many in Mokama see it in rewind to the year 2000 as they discuss the candidates in the November 3 fray. Anant Singh's wife Neelam Devi is pitted against Sonam Devi, the wife of another muscleman Lalan Singh. While Neelam is contesting on the RJD ticket, Sonam is the BJP candidate. Both filed their papers on Friday and declared themselves a winner – 'defeat' is a dirty word in Mokama's history.

Anant Singh has not forgotten the 2000 assembly election from Mokama. His elder brother and the then minister in the RJD government Dilip Singh was defeated by independent Surajbhan Singh, another muscleman who fought the polls sitting behind bars.

Anant too has won the seat once as an independent, twice as a JD-U candidate and once on the RJD symbol in 2020. Anant has not forgiven Sanjay Singh, who had allegedly colluded with his brother's 'enemies' to defeat him in 2000 – sitting in jail.

Sanjay Singh shifted to Deoghar in Jharkhand later but still wields influence in the Mokama assembly constituency. It is to be seen which party Sanjay support this time when the RJD's Neelam Devi has an advantage. She also enjoys the support of other allies of the grand alliance, including JD (U), Congress, HAM and left parties.

Although JD-U chief and MP Rajiv Ranjan Singh alias Lalan Singh and the party's chief spokesperson Neeraj Kumar nurse old rivalry with Anant Singh, it would be interesting to see how much support Neelam gets from them in the election.

On the other hand, BJP's Sonam Devi is likely to get the support of Surajbhan Singh, who is also a former MP and belongs to the LJP faction of Union minister Pashupati Nath Paras, known as Rashtriya Lok Samata Party (RLSP). Surajbhan's younger brother Chandan Singh is MP from Nawada.

Convicted in fraud case, RJD MLA loses Bihar House membership

RJD received a major jolt on Friday when party's MLA Anil Kumar Sahni was disqualified from Bihar legislative assembly following his conviction and subsequent award of three years' imprisonment in a fraud case when he was a member of Rajya Sabha. Sahani is second RJD legislator to lose membership of assembly in last six months. Earlier, RJD MLA from Mokama Anant Singh was disqualified after being convicted in an Arms Act case and sentenced to undergo imprisonment for 10 years. According to a notification issued by Bihar Vidhan Sabha secretary Pawan Kumar Pandey, "Sahni has been disqualified with effect from date of conviction and sentence." Sahni was held guilty in the case by the court of Rouse Avenue on August 19 this year and awarded three years imprisonment two days later.

MBBS books in local languages soon, NMC to take lead role

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @ New Delhi

MADHYA Pradesh may be the first state to roll out textbooks in Hindi for medical students, but medicine will soon be taught in the country in regional languages as well.

The High Powered Committee for Promotion of Indian Languages under the Ministry of Education has already initiated dialogues with the National Medical Commission (NMC), state medical councils, medical universities and colleges and also doctors and professors, on preparing medical syllabus in Hindi and other regional languages, Chamu Krishna Shastry, the committee's chairman, told this newspaper.

Shastry said that the Tamil Nadu Dr MGR Medical University Vice Chancellor, Dr Sudha Seshayyan M.S., has already started preparing a glossary on medical terms in Tamil. He added that Home Minister Amit Shah will release the country's first MBBS syllabus in Hindi for students on October 16. Hopefully, other states will follow suit, he said.

"They (MP) have prepared textbooks for first-year MBBS students. They are working on preparing the rest of the medical course books. The main aim is to bring medical textbooks in Hindi and other regional languages," Shastry added.

While teaching in English will continue, students will have the option to study both in Hindi and their regional language.

The idea behind the initiative is that 90 per cent of patients don't know English.

"A large section of the students also come after having studied in their mother tongue, and all of a sudden, when they start medical education in English medium they find it difficult to comprehend medical language," Shastry added.

"Students from rural areas would like to work in their hometowns or villages. So we will be able to create a workforce catering to rural healthcare facilities. The quality of the books won't be compromised," Shastry said.

However, the plan has drawn flak from the medical fraternity. Dr Rohan Krishnan, president, FAIMA Doctors Association, said that it will affect the students adversely. "Medical education needs to be at par with international guidelines and bodies," he said, adding that students will get confused and the quality will fall.

Dr Furquan Ahmad, former joint secretary of Resident Doctors Association, RML, tweeted, "Teaching MBBS in Hindi is a regressive step. Hyper Nationalism is the root cause. Tomorrow, they will demand to launch it in Sanskrit, but what's the point of writing English words in Devnagari script for political agenda? NMC is a complete failure."

Dr Manish Jangra, FAIMA founding member, said doctors, after completion, will find themselves unfamiliar with guidelines and will have to depend on poor salaries.

Andheri East bypoll: It's BJP versus Uddhav

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

Battle lines are drawn for the Andheri-East Assembly constituency in Mumbai where by-elections are due Novermber 3. It will be the first election after the exit of the MVA government following a vertical split in the Shiv Sena headed by Uddhav Thackeray.

The main battle is between BJP's Murji Patel and Thackeray-led Shiv Sena's Rutuja Latke. The two candidates filed their nomination papers on Friday. The other faction of Shiv Sena led by CM Eknath Shinde has decided to support the BJP candidate.

The by-election was necessitated after the death of Rutuja Latke's husband and incumbent Shiv Sena MLA Ramesh Latke. The Thackeray-led faction will strain every nerve to prove that it still holds sway in its stronghold.

A win in the Marathi-dominant constituency also means a fillip for the Eknath Shinde camp and the BJP.

Dera head granted parole ahead of panchayat & bypolls in Haryana

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

IN a move peculiar to the Haryana government, Dera Sacha Sauda chief Gurmeet Ram Rahim has been allowed 40-day parole ahead of the panchayat polls and Adampur assembly by-election due Nov 3.

As per law, a convict is entitled to be released from prison on parole after completing one year of his/her conviction period. Yet the timing of the parole for Gurmeet Ram Rahim raises questions.

The disgraced sect head, who continues to wield influence in the rural hinterland of Punjab, parts of Haryana and Rajasthan, was granted a 21-day furlough on February 7, days ahead of the Punjab Assembly polls on February 20.

The Dera chief had been earlier granted parole thrice in 2021 and twice in 2022.

In February this year, he was provided Z-plus security cover during his 21-day furlough, due to a "high-level threat to his life from pro-Khalistani elements." He continues to enjoy Z-plus security cover whenever he is allowed temporary relief from prison life.

Then in June this year, he was out on 30-day parole. At the time, president of the Shiromani Gurdwara Parbandhak Committee, Harjinder Singh Dhami, had condemned the Haryana government for releasing him repeatedly.

Commenting on his latest parole, Dhami said the decision showed double standards of the government.

The sect head is serving 20-year life imprisonment in murder and rape cases and is lodged in a Rohtak jail. Sources said the Dera era chief's family had submitted an application to the jail authorities seeking month-long parole for him.

He was last year also convicted along with four others for hatching a conspiracy to kill Ranjit Singh, a Dera manager, in 2002. The Dera chief and three others were convicted in 2019 for the murder of a journalist more than 16 years ago.

"This is dual policy, which brings the functioning of governments under question. Such tactics for political gains are not in the interest of the country. Governments should refrain from hurting Sikh sentiments," said Dhami.

The decision (to release Ram Rahim) showed double standards of the government. This is dual policy, which brings the functioning of governments under question

LIZ TRUSS IN DISTRESS

British Prime Minister Liz Truss has had the shortest of political honeymoons since taking over from Boris Johnson. Taking out the 10 days of mourning for Queen Elizabeth II, Truss had only a week in control of events before her political programme imploded, leading to the sacking of her finance minister

SEPTEMBER 5

Liz Truss wins a vote by Conservative party members by 81,326, against 60,399 for Rishi Sunak

The next day, she is confirmed as the UK prime minister by Queen Elizabeth II

SEPTEMBER 8

Truss unveils a costly scheme to cap household energy bills, in response to Russia's invasion of Ukraine

SEPTEMBER 23

Kwarteng announces a "mini-budget" which details the price of the energy scheme — £60 billion over the next six months. But there are no measures to raise funds

Instead, he announces massive new borrowing to pay for sweeping tax cuts

The announcement immediately draws political fire for being unfair. Two days later, Kwarteng vows "more to come" on tax cuts

SEPTEMBER 28

With bond market turmoil placing British pension funds in jeopardy, the Bank of England announces a two-week programme to buy long-term UK bonds, capped initially at £65 billion, "to restore orderly market conditions"

OCTOBER 3

Kwarteng and Truss are forced into a humiliating U-turn as civil war engulfs the party conference, scrapping the planned cut in the top rate of income tax

In her own conference speech on October 5, Truss fails to reassure party rebels and nervous markets

UK government bond yields keep rising, inflicting more pain for households in the country as mortgage rates surge

OCTOBER 10

In another volte-face, Kwarteng reveals he will publish a medium-term fiscal plan alongside independent budget forecasts on October 31 – Halloween — rather than in late November as originally planned

OCTOBER 12

Truss rules out any cuts to public spending, even as she vows no further U-turns on the remaining tax cuts, compounding perceptions of a government in chaos

OCTOBER 14

With markets still rattled and pressure piling on Truss, the prime minister fires Kwarteng

UK PM sacks finance minister, drops her flagship tax cut plan

Faces credibility questions as she abandons key plank of her economic platform

LONDON

EMBATTLED British Prime Minister Liz Truss sacked her Treasury chief and reversed course on sweeping tax cuts on Friday, battling to salvage her new government as restive Conservatives plotted her own demise.

At her first news conference since succeeding Boris Johnson, Truss on Friday insisted she had acted "decisively" to bring about "economic stability" — but the pound resumed its slide on currency markets, falling under $1.12.

"We will get through this storm," she said, taking only four questions, delivering terse replies, and prompting one journalist to shout as she left: "Aren't you going to say sorry?"

Truss refused to comment on whether she retains any credibility after dismissing Kwasi Kwarteng as chancellor of the exchequer for implementing her own agenda.

"I want to deliver a low-tax, high-wage, high-growth economy," she said. "That mission remains." Kwarteng, who had rushed back early from international meetings in Washington, was replaced by the centrist former foreign secretary and Tory leadership candidate Jeremy Hunt as Britain's fourth chancellor this year. Financial upheaval sparked by the new government's September 23 plan to slash taxes — financed via billions in more borrowing — had subsided somewhat since the Bank of England intervened in bond markets. But the central bank was adamant it would end its bond-buying spree on Friday, and market analysts said only a bigger climbdown by Truss following Kwarteng's disastrous budget announcement last month would avert fresh panic. She duly delivered the U-turn by announcing she would retain the Johnson government's plan to raise profits tax on companies — having already changed her mind about cutting income tax for the highest earners.

The promised tax reforms were the centrepiece of Truss's successful pitch to Tory party members that she, rather than rival Rishi Sunak, was the best candidate to replace Johnson.

That programme now lies in tatters, and Truss's judgement is in question more than ever, after Sunak's warnings were entirely vindicated: higher borrowing to pay for tax cuts served only to terrify the markets and drive up costs for millions of Britons.

Britain's 10-year government bond yield wobbled in afternoon trading.

A new YouGov poll for The Times newspaper said 43 per cent of Conservative voters want a new prime minister in Downing Street.

Other polls show a mammoth lead up opening up for the main opposition Labour party, threatening electoral meltdown for the Tories. Labour leader Keir Starmer said that ditching Kwarteng would not "undo the damage made in Downing Street".

"Liz Truss' reckless approach has crashed the economy, causing mortgages to skyrocket, and has undermined Britain's standing on the world stage," he said.

Tony Travers, from the London School of Economics, said Kwarteng had been made "the fall guy for the government's mistakes" — but that the sacking had not taken the pressure off Truss or calmed the Tories.

"It's very hard to see them coming back from this" by the next election, he added.

Kwarteng was due to have stayed in Washington this weekend to conclude annual meetings of the International Monetary Fund and World Bank, after having earned a rebuke from IMF chief Kristalina Georgieva on the need for "coherent and consistent" policies. Agencies

Budget U-turn shows need for prudence: EU

Britain's budget U-turn shows the need for countries to be prudent in how they implement fiscal and monetary policies, a top EU official said. "What happened shows how volatile is the situation and so how prudent we should be with our fiscal and monetary mix," the EU economy commissioner said

Saudi forced other OPEC+ nations to output cut, claims White House

WASHINGTON

A day after Saudi Arabia said US President Joe Biden sought a delay in oil output cut by OPEC+ in view of the midterm elections in the US, Reuters quoted White House as saying on Friday that Riyadh had pushed other OPEC+ nations into an output cut.

Coming amid an energy crisis triggered by the war in Ukraine, and as inflation-weary American voters prepare to cast ballots in midterm elections, the planned cuts have infuriated Washington, with US President Joe Biden warning Tuesday of unspecified "consequences".

Saudi officials, for their part, have defended the move as purely motivated by economics, not politics, and dismissed charges from the White House that OPEC+ was "aligning with Russia". Verbal sparring between the two sides continued on Thursday, with the Saudi foreign ministry expressing "total rejection" of such claims "which are not based on facts".

The ministry said it also rejected "any dictates, actions or efforts to distort its noble objectives to protect the global economy from oil market volatility".

In response, the White House said Riyadh "can try to spin or deflect, but the facts are simple." Despite obvious rancour on both sides, it is unclear where the feud goes from here.

Biden stopped short of providing details on how he might respond in an interview with CNN on Tuesday, and Riyadh's public statements continue to highlight the benefits of strong ties with Washington.

"The US-Saudi relationship has gone through periods of intense strain before, but in my view the current low point represents a crack but not a rupture," said Anna Jacobs, a senior analyst. Agencies

Putin says no more need for massive strikes on Ukraine

ASTANA

RUSSIAN President Vladimir Putin said on Friday that Moscow was conducting its nearly eight-month invasion of Ukraine correctly, despite his forces' early failure to topple Kyiv and a string of recent embarrassing battlefield defeats.

"What is happening today is not pleasant. But all the same, (if Russia hadn't attacked on February) we would have been in the same situation, only the conditions would have been worse for us," Putin told reporters in Kazakhstan.

"So we're doing everything right," he insisted. Speaking to reporters on Thursday, he said that "for now" he saw no need to continue the massive salvo of missiles that hit cities across Ukraine — several far from the front line — and left at least 20 civilians dead. He explained the Russian military had other objectives. And on Thursday Moscow also hinted at the potentially wide extent of the damage dealt to the Crimea bridge, saying it could take many months to complete repairs after a recent blast rocked the key supply link between Russia and the annexed Crimean peninsula.

Russia's cabinet, in a decree signed by Prime Minister Mikhail Mishustin, ordered the company tasked with the "design and restoration of destroyed elements of ... the Crimean Bridge" to complete the work by July 1, 2023.

That date gives an indication of the extent of the damage caused by the explosion at the bridge because Russian officials have otherwise been circumspect about the impact.

Russia to evacuate Kherson residents as Ukraine troops near

KYIV

RUSSIA has promised free accommodation to residents of Ukraine's partially occupied Kherson region who want to evacuate to Russia, a sign that Ukrainian military gains along the war's southern front are worrying the Kremlin.

The Moscow-installed leader of Kherson, one of four regions illegally annexed by Russian President Vladimir Putin last month, asked the Kremlin to organise an evacuation from four cities, citing incessant shelling by Ukrainian forces.

Vladimir Saldo, the head of the Moscow-appointed regional administration, said a decision was made to evacuate Kherson residents to the Russian regions of Rostov, Krasnodar and Stavropol, as well as to the Crimean Peninsula, which Moscow annexed from Ukraine in 2014.

"We, residents of the Kherson region, of course know that Russia doesn't abandon their own, and Russia always offers a hand," Saldo said on Thursday.

Russia has characterised the movement of Ukrainians to Russia or Russian-controlled territory as voluntary, but in many cases those are the only evacuation routes residents of the occupied areas can or are allowed to take.

Reports have surfaced that some Ukrainians were forcibly deported to 'filtration camps' with harsh conditions.

In addition, an Associated Press investigation found that Russian officials deported thousands of Ukrainian children — some orphaned, others living with foster families or in institutions — to be raised as Russian.

As Ukrainian forces sustain counteroffensives in the country's east and south to recapture occupied areas, Russian troops have retreated from some areas they overran soon after invading the country in late February. AP

Not pursuing Diwali deadline for India FTA: UK minister

LONDON

THE free trade agreement (FTA) negotiations with India are no longer working towards a Diwali deadline, UK Trade Secretary Kemi Badenoch has confirmed.

During a visit to a Scotch whisky distillery on Thursday, the Cabinet minister in charge of the FTA negotiations at the Department for International Trade (DIT) said the deal being lined up with India would bring great wins for the industry as the steep tariffs of up to 150 per cent are set to be slashed.

However, while the negotiations are progressing well, signing a draft agreement by October 24 is no longer the goal. "We are close. We're still working on a deal. One of the things that has changed is that we are no longer working to the Diwali deadline," Badenoch said.

"We've closed a lot of chapters (the sections for the negotiating text). The negotiations are progressing well. But we want to focus on the quality of the deal rather than the speed of the deal. Given the changes that have taken place not just in government but the mourning period (for the Queen) and so on, it makes sense for us to focus on the deal rather than the day," she said.

This marks the first official confirmation that both sides are no longer considering Diwali as the closing date for the majority of the deal.

Task force wants football body chief to resign

The task force investigating a stadium tragedy that killed 132 people in Indonesia has called on the country's football association chief to resign, a top minister said Friday. A stampede sparked by police firing tear gas into packed stands took place on October 1 in Malang.
"Technically, the government cannot intervene in PSSI, but in a country based on morals, ethics and great culture, it is recommended the PSSI head and all the executive committee members resign as the form of responsibility," the report said, referring to the football association. The 124-page report was released after Indonesia's chief security minister held a press conference saying the association, known by its Indonesian acronym PSSI, should take responsibility for the disaster

Economy grows 4.4% in the third quarter

Singapore's economy expanded by 4.4% on-year in the third quarter of 2022, the government said on Friday. Economists often see the performance of the city-state's open, trade-driven economy as a barometer for global trading activity. The Q3 reading was slightly lower than the previous quarter's 4.5%, according to advance estimates released by the trade ministry. "The expansion was underpinned in part by a stronger-than-expected recovery in the... travel-related sectors as more Covid-19 restrictions abroad and locally were relaxed," the Monetary Authority of Singapore said. On a quarter-to-quarter basis, Singapore's economy expanded by 1.5%, avoiding a technical recession by reversing the 0.2% contraction in Q2

Desi student stabbed multiple times in Aus

SYDNEY

A 28-year-old Indian PhD student in Australia has been stabbed multiple times in the face, chest and abdomen by a man he had never met before, prompting India to demand strict action against the perpetrators.

The incident took place on October 6, as Shubham Garg walked along the Pacific Highway, Sydney, New South Wales Police Force said in a statement.

Police have arrested Daniel Norwood and the 27-year-old suspect is charged with attempted murder after Garg, allegedly suffered multiple stab wounds to the face, chest and abdomen, the Daily Telegraph newspaper reported.

Garg sought assistance from a nearby house before being taken to Royal North Shore Hospital. The man underwent surgery and remains there in a serious but stable condition, the NSW Police Force said.

Garg was approached by an unknown man on Thursday. The unknown man allegedly threatened him while demanding cash.

The man refused and was allegedly stabbed a number of times in the abdomen before the assailant fled, media reports said.

Meanwhile, Ministry of External Affairs in Delhi said that the High Commission in Canberra is in touch with the local authorities over the incident and expects action to be taken against perpetrators. PTI

US retail sales flat in Sept as inflation takes a bite

WASHINGTON

US retail sales were flat in September, official data showed on Friday, as auto sales slowed and higher prices weighed on consumption.

Americans flush with savings have been key to the US pandemic recovery, but the Federal Reserve has been keeping a close watch on data as it fights to bring down surging inflation in the world's biggest economy. Inflation keeps its hold on the US economy as consumer prices jumped higher than expected last month, in a blow to President Joe Biden before the midterm elections in a few weeks.

Amid the elevated consumer costs, retail sales in September were 'virtually unchanged' from August at $684 billion, Commerce Department data showed on Friday.

The weaker-than-expected numbers came as auto sales dipped 0.6% from August, while gasoline stations saw sales drop 1.4% as fuel prices fell.

Meanwhile, sales at restaurants and bars, along with those at online retailers, picked up 0.5% from August, the latest data showed. The data are seasonally adjusted but do not take into account changes in prices, so as costs rise, a shopping dollar does not stretch as far and American families have had to use more of their earnings on staple goods.

Overall retail sales were 8.2% higher than in the same period a year ago, official data showed. A separate survey by the University of Michigan showed that consumer sentiment improved for a fourth straight month in October, although it is still below pre-pandemic levels. AFP

Coltrane who played Hagrid in Harry Potter movies dies

LONDON

SCOTTISH actor Robbie Coltrane, who played Hagrid in the Harry Potter films, died aged 72, his agent said on Friday. He also played a former KGB agent-turned-Russian mafia boss in two James Bond films — Goldeneye (1995) and The World Is Not Enough (1999) —with Pierce Brosnan.

Coltrane, who was born Anthony Robert McMillan on March 30, 1950, in Rutherglen, near Glasgow, forged a career as an actor, comedian and writer.

"Harry Potter" author J K Rowling, who decades ago had said Coltrane was her first choice to play Hagrid, tweeted on Friday that he was "an incredible talent, a complete one off." Agencies

'LIC needs more efforts to be true mkt player'

Whether investments, portfolios, mix of policies, margins, LIC needs to keep doing things, says DIPAM Secretary

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

IN a bid to prove itself as a true market player, Life Insurance Corporation (LIC) will have to do many fresh things from long-term perspective and the management needs to strategise for the next twenty years, Tuhin Kanta Pandey, Secretary at the Department of Investment and Public Asset Management (DIPAM), said on Friday.

He said that the actual work starts after the listing process and it needs to redouble efforts to show itself as a true market player. "It's a competitive world. Whether its investments, their portfolios, mix of their policies, margins, human resource ... they need to keep doing things. The work actually begins after listing. Listing isn't an end itself," Pandey told TNIE, when asked if he has seen changes in the government-owned life insurer's operations after the listing. The government raised ₹21,000 crore by selling 5% equity shares of LIC through an Initial Public offer (IPO) in May this year.

With regard to the strategic disinvestment of Bharat Petroleum Corporation Ltd (BPCL), the secretary stated that the government is looking for the opportune time to launch the EoI for its bidding process. The Centre had to call off the EoI of BPCL earlier, as most bidders expressed their inability to participate in the bidding process. "A lot of turmoil happened in the oil industry in the last two years. Energy transition is one of the major issues in this particular sector. Investors have some concerns as it is more linked with the climate change...Ukraine crisis also took its toll besides other issues," Pandey stated. He further added that as BPCL is a big investment, investors due to these multiple factors didn't feel confident enough to proceed with the disinvestment.

Meanwhile, he said the government will come up with EoI of the former subsidiaries of Air India Air Transport Services (AIATSL) and Air India Engineering Services (AIESL). There are several potential buyers for AIATSL, which is a ground handling firm and AIESL (engineering services), he added. Both these companies were transferred to the government's wholly-owned Air India Asset Holding Company (AIAHL) and were not the part of Air India disinvestment.

In addition, on privatisation of two banks as announced in the Budget 2022, Pandey said the Centre has to decide on the timing. Also, some amendments need to be done in the banking legislation before moving towards the privatisation of these banks.

Losses by Discoms jumped 66% to ₹50,281 cr in FY21

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

DISCOMS in India reported a loss of ₹50,281 crore in 2020-21, according to a report by state-run Power Finance Corporation (PFC). It is 66% more compared to ₹30,203 crore in 2019-20.

The aggregate losses due to power subsidy, after excluding regulatory income and revenue grant under UDAY (discoms revival scheme), increased from ₹63,949 crore in 2019-20 to ₹88,500 crore in 2020-21.

Discoms' tariff subsidy increased from ₹1,20,828 crore in 2019-20 to ₹1,32,416 crore in 2020-21. As a percentage of total revenue, tariff subsidy billed by the discoms increased from to 18.53% in 2020-21 from 16.52% in 2019-20. As per the report, all states barring 13 released the entire subsidy amount billed to their respective discoms. Those which have not made the full payments include Delhi (which paid 92.5% of the subsidy amount), Karnataka (92.07%), Bihar (91.24%), Punjab (87.36%), Maharashtra (86.30%), Rajasthan (77.17%), Tripura (73.79%), Jharkhand (73.74%), Madhya Pradesh (70.75%) and Andhra Pradesh (36.84%), among others. The report on performance of power utilities in 2020-21 was unveiled by power minister R K Singh at state power ministers' conference in Udaipur. It covers 117 utilities comprising 68 discoms, 23 power generation utilities, 22 power transmission utilities and 4 power trading utilities. The Aggregate Technical & Commercial (AT&C) loss in the electricity sector increased from 20.73% in 2019-20 to 22.32% in 2020-21. AT&C losses are energy loss and commercial loss, which includes technical loss, theft, and inefficiency in billing, commercial loss constitutes default in payment and inefficiency in collection. The report noted gross energy sold by distribution utilities was 10,24,309 MU in 2019-20 and 10,05,044 MU in 2020-21 registering a year-on-year decrease of 1.88%.

IMF URGES ASIAN CENTRAL BANKS TO TIGHTEN POLICY

Most Asian central banks must tighten monetary policy further as rising commodity prices and their currencies' depreciation, driven by steady US interest rate hikes, push inflation above their targets, the International Monetary Fund said on Thursday. China and Japan are exceptions, where the economic recovery has been weaker, slack remains substantial and inflation has not risen as sharply as elsewhere, said Krishna Srinivasan, director of the IMF's Asia and Pacific Department. Many Asian currencies depreciated "quite sharply" as US monetary tightening led to widening interest rate differentials, helping push up import costs for the countries, he said. Soaring rent, food costs keep US consumer inflation on front burner cash transfer schemes, cash transfer schemes in india, IMF, India's cash transfer schemes a 'logistical marvel', says IMF. Large currency depreciations and rising interest rates could also trigger financial stress in Asian countries with high debt, Srinivasan said. Most of the rise in Asia's debt is concentrated in China, but also seen in other economies.

ANNOUNCES S$1.5 BN PACKAGE FOR HOUSEHOLDS

Singapore's Finance Ministry on Friday announced a S$1.5 billion ($1.05 billion) support package for all Singaporean households amid concerns over the rising costs of living in the city-state. The package includes cash, vouchers and public transport subsidies mainly for lower- to middle-income citizens, according to a statement from the Ministry of Finance. "This new S$1.5 billion support package, together with earlier rounds of support measures rolled out this year, will fully cover the increase in cost of living for lower-income households on average, and more than half of the increase in cost of living for middle-income households on average this year," the ministry said. The package will be funded from the better-than-expected fiscal out-turn in the first half of FY2022, it added. The central bank earlier on Friday tightened monetary policy for the fourth time this year to combat persistently high inflation.

TRADE SURPLUS SEEN AT $4.8 BN AS EXPORTS SLOW

Indonesia's trade surplus likely remained elevated in September, albeit below the level recorded in the previous month, amid a slowdown in export growth, a Reuters poll showed on Friday. The resource-rich nation has been enjoying an export boom on the back of high commodity prices, which has boosted its economic recovery from the impacts of the pandemic. The September trade surplus is seen at $4.84 billion. Export growth is seen at 27.91% annually, slower than August's 30.15%, while imports are seen up 31.48% on a yearly basis, versus 32.81% in August. Indonesia is a major exporter of coal, palm oil, nickel, tin and other commodities. Analysts have warned moderating commodity prices, at a time when imports are rising due to an improving domestic economy, may reduce its trade surplus in the remainder of 2022. "We saw a correction in CPO (crude palm oil) prices, even though coal prices were stable" last month, said Irman Faiz, an economist with Bank Danamon, who predicted a $4.4 billion September surplus.

Tech hiring slows down amid recession fears, TCS adds only 9,840 employees

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

RISING recession fears and macroeconomic headwinds have impacted hiring in the IT sector, as in the second quarter, top four IT companies have hired only 28,837 employees compared to 52,842 in the previous quarter.

The country's largest IT services company Tata Consultancy Services (TCS) has added only 9,840 employees in Q2 compared to 14,136 in the previous quarter. The company's hiring was at an all-time high in the fourth quarter of last fiscal. It added 35,209 employees on a net basis.

During the company's earnings call, Rajesh Gopinathan, CEO, TCS said that they have been significantly investing into headcount addition through last year. "Our headcount growth was close to 20% against revenue growth of about 15%, and that we have built up a fair amount of headroom.. we will be using that lever a bit more as we go into this year, and try to balance our overall headcount to our overall revenue from a longer-term perspective," he said.

Infosys in Q2 added over 10,000 employees compared to 21,171 employees in the previous quarter. Wipro's net addition in Q2 was lowest as it added only 605 employees when compared to 15,446 in the first quarter. The company has onboarded 14,000 freshers in the first half of this fiscal.

HCLTech is the only company that added more employees compared to Q1. It added 8,359 employees as against 2,089 in the first quarter.

Meanwhile, staffing firm Xpheno in its recent report said the IT services sector registered a 13% drop in volume in September compared to August 2022.

As of September, it recorded only 70,000 active jobs, the lowest count in 17 months.

It also said that the sector had its sharpest YoY drop of 36% in active jobs volume, and the previous low was 23% drop in August 2022. With the drop in count in September 2022, the IT services sector has recorded a 7-month lowering volume trend.

According to Xpheno, last month closed with an Active Jobs count of 2,10,000 as against 2,60,000 clocked in August 2022.

ArcelorMittal's bid for Uttam Galva gets NCLT nod

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

ARCELORMITTAL group has successfully bid for yet another steel company – Uttam Galva Steel -- through the corporate insolvency resolution process (CIRP).

The Mumbai bench of the National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT) on Friday gave its approval to ₹4,000-crore resolution plan submitted by AM Mining India, a subsidiary of ArcelorMittal for Uttam Galva. Earlier, the Committee of Creditors had approved the resolution plan submitted by AM Mining India with a 100% vote share. Others in the race for Uttam Galva Steel were JSW and Jindal Steel and Power Ltd.

The NCLT approved the resolution plan submitted by the ArcelorMittal group without any changes or amendments, and rejected all challenges to the plan. ArcelorMittal group was represented by Ravi Kadam, Senior Advocate and advised by a team from Karanjawala & Co and a team from S&R Associates. Uttam Galva had been under the insolvency process on an application filed by State Bank of India after the former defaulted on a payment of ₹110 crore. The NCLT admitted the application in October 2020. Uttam Galva owed ₹9,340 crore to financial creditors. ArcelorMittal India was the largest financial creditor accounting for 69.35% of the total due amount. Before Uttam Galva, ArcelorMittal and Nippon Steel had successfully bid for Essar Steel for a sum of ₹41,000 crore in 2018. The LN Mittal-led group has also acquired Odisha Slurry Pipeline Infrastructure for ₹2,350 crore in 2020.

Uttam Galva Steel, which was incorporated in 1985, is engaged in the business of manufacturing downstream value-added steel products in India. The Company procures hot rolled steel (HR) and processes it into cold rolled steel (CR) and further converts them into galvanized steel and colour-coated coils.

RBI panel favours rate hike to tame inflation

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

MOST members of the Monetary Policy Committee (MPC) raised concern over uncertainty around both growth and inflation, but kept their focus on taming inflation, the minutes of the MPC meeting showed.

The minutes of the meeting which were released on Friday showed that while most members favoured an increase in repo rate by 50 basis points or more, Dr Ashima Goyal was in favour of only a 35 bps hike. The RBI on 30 September 2022 announced 50 bps hike in repo rate, the short-term rate at which RBI lends to banks.

Dr Ashima Goyal made an impassioned argument in favour of a 35 bps rate hike as she opined that a 50 bps rise just to preserve a spread with US policy rates would be an over-reaction driven by fear. "..if lagged effects of monetary policy are large, as in India, overreaction can be very costly," she warned while reminding that taking repo rates too high imposed heavy costs in 2011, 2014 and 2018, when credit and investment slowdown was aggravated (due to high repo rates)," she said in her statement. Prof Jayant R Varma, who sees the terminal repo rate at 6.25-6.5%, was in favour of a front-loaded hike of 60 bps but ultimately voted for a 50 bps hike. Deputy governor of RBI Dr Michael Debabrata Patra was also in favour of more forceful tightening of monetary policy. He said front-loading of monetary policy actions can keep inflation expectations firmly anchored, and also cut the medium-term growth sacrifice associated with steering inflation back to target. Governor Shaktikanta Das in his remarks said though economic activities were steadily improving, there were mixed signals on the growth front.

Federal Bank Sept quarter net profit jumps 50%

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

KOCHI-BASED Federal Bank on Friday reported a 50% jump in its September quarter consolidated net profit at ₹733.34 crore on the back of healthy growth in both interest and other income streams. The private sector lender posted a 52% jump in standalone net profit at ₹703.71 crore.

The bank's provision coverage ratio (PCR) moved up to 67.41%, while the total provisions moved up 12.6% to ₹506 crore. The core net interest income rose 19.1% to ₹1,762 crore, helped by a 20% growth in advances and 0.10% widening in the net interest margin to 3.30%. Its other income rose to ₹610 crore from ₹492 crore in the year-ago period through what Srinivasan termed was all-round growth across lines.

Bajaj Auto Q2 net falls 16%

Bajaj Auto on Friday reported a 16 per cent decline in its consolidated net profit to Rs 1,719 crore for the September quarter, hit by a 25 per cent dip in overseas shipments.

The Pune-based company had posted a consolidated net profit of ₹2,040 crore in the July-September quarter of the previous fiscal. Total revenue from operations, however, rose to ₹10,203 crore in the September quarter against ₹8,762 crore in the year-ago period, Bajaj Auto said in a regulatory filing.

Shareholders approve Zee-Sony merger with thumping majority

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

MOVING one step closer to form India's largest broadcasting company, ZEE Entertainment Enterprises (ZEEL) equity shareholders have approved the proposed merger of ZEEL and Bangla Entertainment with and into Culver Max Entertainment. (formerly Sony Pictures Networks India.) by a thumping majority of 99.99%.

As per the order of the National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT), Mumbai Bench, dated August 24, 2022, Zee convened the meeting of its equity shareholders on October 14, 2022, to seek approval for the proposed merger. The resolution put forth during the meeting pertaining to the proposed merger was whole- heartedly supported by 99.99% of ZEEL's equity shareholders.

Punit Goenka, MD & CEO, ZEE Entertainment Enterprises, said," The continued trust and overwhelming support by our equity shareholders towards the resolution of the Composite Scheme of Arrangement, further strengthen our abilities to consistently deliver higher value as we move forward in this process."

ZEEL has received an approval from the Competition Commission of India (CCI). The Company has also received approvals from the Bombay Stock Exchange (BSE) and National Stock Exchange (NSE) in July 2022. The deal, which will create India's largest broadcast company with a market share of about 27% was first announced in September last year and in December 2021; the two firms signed a definitive merger agreement.

According to the agreement, the Japanese company (Sony) would own a 50.86% stake in the merged entity, while Zee Entertainment's promoters would own 3.99%. Zee Entertainment's public shareholders get the remaining 45.15%.

The deal also noted that Zee founder Subhash Chandra's son, Punit Goenka, will continue to head the combined company as managing director and chief executive. This part of the deal was widely opposed by Zee's biggest share Invesco Developing Markets Fund till March this year.

"The firm is not evaluating such proposal and hence we are not in a position to comment on the veracity of said media report," said Adani Enterprises in a regulatory filing on Friday. Following the development, shares of Jaiprakash Associates fell 7.29% to settle at ₹10.56 on the BSE. Adani Enterprises fell 1% to close at ₹3,208. ENS

Bulls make a comeback, Sensex rallies 1.2% on global cues

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

INDIA'S equity market bounced back sharply in opening trades on Friday after the US market made a recovery and rallied over 2% on Thursday despite the nation reporting a higher-than-expected inflation from the month of September.

BSE Sensex soared to a high of 58,435 in intra-day deals and ended 685 points, or 1.20%, higher at 57,920. The broader Nifty 50 index, which rallied past the 17,300-level in early deals, finally settling at 17,186, up 171 points, or 1.01%. The rally in the domestic market was led by large caps, with IT and banking at the forefront due to the robust start to Q2 earnings. In Asia, markets in Seoul, Tokyo, Shanghai and Hong Kong also ended higher. "The domestic market showed an uptick, in-line with surprise bounce in the US market. Initially the US market fell because the data exceeded the forecast. However, it recovered quickly, due to the oversold state of the market," said Vinod Nair, head of research at Geojit Financial Services. He added that the rally can continue in the short-term, led by festival demand, Q2 results and positive trend in the global market. From the Sensex pack, Infosys jumped nearly 4%, followed by HDFC twins, HCL Technologies, Larsen & Toubro, ICICI Bank, Kotak Mahindra Bank, Bajaj Finance and State Bank of India.

India's second-largest IT services company Infosys gained after its healthy Q2FY23 performance and ₹9,300 crore share buyback. Analysts, at large, expect more buying in the stock in the coming session. Despite bull market, foreign institutional investors (FIIs) remained net sellers in the Indian capital market on Friday, as they offloaded shares of ₹1,011 crore, as per exchange data. S Hariharan, head - institutional equity sales, Emkay Global Financial Services, said, "FII flows into India have turned negative for the last few sessions, after a positive start in Oct. As a result, despite expectations of a strong earnings season, the broader market has been moving sideways, with DII inflows offsetting FII selling."

Shami had last played in T20 Internationals during the last edition of the ICC T20 World Cup in the UAE. Shami has played 17 T20Is and has taken 18 wickets.

RUDRANKKSH: SHOOTING STAR AT 18

Teenager shows maturity beyond years to become world champ in Cairo, helps India earn Paris Olympic quota

ANMOL GURUNG @ Chennai

Rudrankksh B Patil (centre) celebrates after winning the gold medal at the ISSF World Championships in Cairo on Friday | NRAI

UP AGAINST the cream of the crop, shooter Rudrankksh B Patil more than held his own on Friday. Taking part in the ongoing ISSF World Championships in Cairo, the 18-year-old produced plenty of spark to become a world champion in the men's 10 air rifle event, earning an Olympic quota for India in the process.

This is a mammoth effort given that he emulated a legend in the process (Abhinav Bindra is the only other Indian to have climbed the top of the podium in the event in 2006).

Rudrankksh displayed plenty of poise on the day, especially during the gold medal match. After acing the qualification round (he finished No 1), he did just enough to enter the gold medal match. Battling with Danilo Dennis Sollazzo for the top prize, Rudrankksh was off to a slow start. In a tense face-off, his Italian opponent was hitting high 10s and had a handy lead. Despite the top prize slipping away from him, the youngster from Maharashtra didn't lose his calm and continued to persist.

Just when it seemed that the Italian was coasting to victory, Rudrankksh, after a quick chat with his coach, completely changed the narrative. Danilo shot 10.7 (a score that's considered to be almost unbeatable), Rudrankksh responded with a 10.8. The Italian and his coaching unit must have wondered how. That defining moment also helped him be on level terms with the Italian. He followed it up with another 10.7 to Italian's 10.4. Then a 10.5 was enough for him to complete the turnaround.

He raised his arms after an exhausting battle and everyone who followed the fascinating contest cheered along. Back home in India, his coach Ajit Patil was a delighted man. "I'm thrilled. What he has achieved has come after plenty of hard work out here," he said.

Ajit, who has been training Rudrankksh since 2016, threw light on what his ward had done to get this massive result. "He's very determined. Until and unless he doesn't achieve what he wants, he won't rest. He'll be saying he wants to do this, he wants to do that. He has to ensure that he reaches his targets. Also, he's quite hard-working and has plenty of interest in the game," he said.

According to the coach, another notable quality of Rudrankksh is his level-headedness. The coach said Rudrankksh is taking a sensible approach with the Paris Olympics in mind. "He has a calm demeanour. If he wins something, he won't get overexcited. He's grounded. His main target is to win a medal at the Olympics. With that big goal in mind, he has been trying to give his 100 per cent in every competition."

National Games winner

The Mumbai boy had entered the event having won a gold medal during the National Games last month. Ajit said that Rudrankksh always likes to challenge himself and raise the bar. "We prepared for the National Games like we would for the World Championships. He did really well there. In every competition, we're always looking to compete against ourselves, always looking to get better and better. That's the main thought process."

In the same venue earlier this year, the Indian had finished 11th during the Cairo World Cup. Following that performance, he had bagged a gold medal during the ISSF Junior World Cup in Suhl, Germany. Then he came within range to compete for a medal in the Baku World Cup in May-June before losing out in the ranking match.

In his nascent career, he has had quite a rise. Silver medal during the 2021 junior World Championships and now a gold in the senior event. With his undoubted talent and willingness to work hard, this medal return could be the start of something special for the youngster.

Morocco show the exit door for India U-17s

TANMAY DAS @ Bhubaneswar

IT WAS a must-win game for India's U-17 women's football team. After suffering a 8-0 defeat against USA in the U-17 World Cup opener, they had to get something out of their second match against Morocco to stay in contention.

However, after a goalless first-half on Friday, India conceded three unanswered goals to crash out of the marquee event. El Madani (50'), Yasmine Zouhir (61') and Cherif Djennah (90+1') scored for the winners. India will next play against Brazil on October 17.

After scripting an emphatic 8-0 victory against hosts India, strong USA team faced a tough challenge from one of the favourite teams, Brazil, in a Pool A league match here on Friday. In a fascinating back and forth game, both teams could not break the 1-1 deadlock in the FIFA U-17 Women's World Cup at Kalinga Stadium here on Friday.

In the end, young Brazilian goalkeeper Leilane made all the difference in the second league match of the Pool. She was adjudged the player of the match. Both teams started the match positively and wanted to secure full points. In the 33rd minute USA got the lead when Nicollette Kiorpes found the net through Onyeka Gamero's pass. Within four minutes, in a counter attack, Brazilian striker Carol nailed the equaliser with a powerful long distance kick.

The second half, though USA intensified their attack the Brazilian custodian Leilane stood tall to deny them a win. The USA had better ball positioning than Brazil. However the match ended in a draw.

Favourites India tick all the boxes in Asia Cup

GOMESH S @ Chennai

WHEN the Asia Cup started in Bangladesh, the Indian women's team were tipped to reach the final. After all, they have done so in every edition of the tournament since its beginning in 2004. The last time, in 2018, in what was a shocking defeat, India lost to the current hosts Bangladesh by three wickets to lose the title.

Making it to the final was never going to be a problem for them. Which is why, even before the tournament, the Indian team management seemed clear on what they wanted to get out of the multi-team event. For them it was all about giving opportunities to those who were warming the bench. Barring injuries, they had played the same 12 or 13 till the Asia Cup this year. And when the experienced top-order failed in crunch games, the rest of the batting-order could not get the team across the line.

One look at the top performers so far tells the story. Smriti Mandhana (332 runs), Harmanpreet Kaur (295), Shafali Verma (238) and Jemimah Rodrigues (218) led the T20I batting charts for India till the Asia Cup. The likes of Sabbineni Meghana, Dayalan Hemalatha, Kiran Navgire, Pooja Vastrakar and Richa Ghosh hardly had opportunities to make a mark. And with the T20 World Cup coming up, they wanted to use this Asia Cup as preparation for the marquee event. The goal was to make sure that the aforementioned names are provided the opportunities to win matches on their own.

As they are set to take on Sri Lanka in the summit clash on Saturday they are happy with the way some of the players have performed so far. "We don't want to depend on one or two players. I am really happy, every game we are getting different match winners. They are giving their best and whoever is getting the opportunity, they are availing," Harmanpreet said on Friday.

However, most of the experimentation has been in the batting department only. India seem to be taking a clear direction where they want to play as many all-rounders as possible with two pacers in the shortest format. Whether it will work on the longer run, especially in South Africa, it remains to be seen.

India are clear favourites to lift the title. Even if something dramatic happens and the result doesn't go their way, they have ticked the boxes they wanted to do in the Asia Cup.

Manipur hand Pondicherry defeat

ENS/AGENCIES @ Chennai

TAMIL NADU crushed Sikkim by nine wickets in their Group E Syed Mushtaq Ali Trophy match in Lucknow on Friday.

Batting first, Sikkim were all out for 79, and in response, Tamil Nadu completed the formalities with more than 10 overs to spare. TN's decision to field first after winning the toss worked well as they got wickets at regular intervals.

Left-arm spinner R Sai Kishore finished with excellent figures of 3/7 in his full quota of four overs. In the chase, N Jagadeesan top-scored for Tamil Nadu with a brisk 35-ball 58 as TN won the game with as many as 62 deliveries remaining. Meanwhile, after being bundled out for 86, Odisha lost to Bengal by eight wickets in the other Group E clash.

It was an action-packed day for the teams in Group B at Jaipur. Arjun Tendulkar ran through the Hyderabad middle-order (4/10) to restrict Hyderabad for 177/6. Earlier, Tilak Varma scored his third consecutive fifty (62), helping Hyderabad get off to a good start before Tendulkar made an impact. In reply, Goa fell short by 37 runs as they were all out for 140 in 18.5 overs. All-rounder Ravi Teja was the star with the ball as he took four wickets for just 20 runs. The biggest surprise of the group was when Manipur defended a total of 125 against Pondichery by just three runs to register their first win of the tournament. K Priyojit scored a 39-ball 58 to help Manipur get to a competitive total. From thereon, the bowling attack took over, and put up a collective effort, holding their nerve in the final overs and take them home.

Meanwhile, Uttar Pradesh's Shivam Mavi ran riot against Delhi, taking four wickets for just 14 runs, as they were all out for 99 runs in 19.5 overs. UP had no trouble chasing the total, thanks to an unbeaten half-century from captain Karan Sharma (52 n.o).

Kerala continued their winning run in Group C at Mohali as they trumped Haryana in a last-ball finish. Abdul Bazith smashed 27 runs from 15 balls in the latter half of the game to take Kerala across the line in their chase of 132. In the other game, Karnataka beat Meghalaya by nine wickets.

Select results: Group E, at Lucknow: Odisha 86 all out in 18.1 ovs (Mukesh 3/12, Chatterjee 3/22) lost to Bengal 87/2 in 14.3 ovs (Easwaran 37 n.o); Sikkim 79 in 20 ovs (Sai Kishore 3/7) lost to Tamil Nadu 80/1 in 9.4 ovs (Jagadeesan 58 n.o); Group B, at Jaipur: Hyderabad 177/6 in 20 ovs (Tilak 62; Tendulkar 4/10) bt Goa 140 all out in 18.5 ovs (Kaushik 33; Ravi Teja 4/20); Manipur 125/7 in 20 ovs (Priyojit 58; Bharat 2/15) bt Pondicherry 122/5 in 20 ovs (Viknesh 45; Bidash 2/25); Delhi 99 all out in 19.5 ovs (Rana 45; Mavi 4/14) lost to Uttar Pradesh 102/2 in 17 ovs (Karan 52 n.o; Vashisth 2/21); Group C, at Mohali: Haryana 131/7 in 20 ovs (Yadav 38) lost to Kerala 132/7 in 20 ovs (Abdul 27 n.o; Tewatia 3/18); Meghalaya 89/8 in 20 ovs (Lerry 34; Vyshak 3/5) lost to Karnataka 90/1 in 10.1 ovs (Mayank 47 n.o, Manish 42 n.o).

Zaman replaces Qadir in T20 World Cup squad

KARACHI: Hard-hitting batter Fakhar Zaman was on Friday included in the Pakistan squad for the upcoming T20 World Cup in place of leg-spinner Usman Qadir who is yet to recover from an injury. The Pakistan Cricket Board said Fakhar would be part of the official 15-member T20 World Cup squad while Qadir, who is still recovering from a fractured thumb, will join the travelling reserves. It said Zaman will arrive in Brisbane from London along with Shaheen Afridi on Saturday.

Arsenal, Man United post narrow wins

LONDON: Arsenal maintained their perfect start to the Europa League as Bukayo Saka's goal clinched a 1-0 win at Bodo/Glimt, while Manchester United left it late to beat Omonia Nicosia. Saka struck midway through the first half in Norway to give the Gunners a third win in as many outings in Group A. Scott McTominay spared United's blushes with a 93rd-minute goal in a 1-0 win.

Rafiq set to leave England after abuse

LONDON: Azeem Rafiq, whose allegations of racism at Yorkshire led to a series of reviews into the culture of the sport, is leaving England to protect his family from abuse and intimidation. The cricketer, whose family moved to the UK from Pakistan after a business partner of his father was murdered following a bungled kidnapping attempt, is being subjected to abuse and threats.

Chennaiyin rally to hold Bengaluru at home turf

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chennai

CHENNAIYIN FC and Bengaluru FC played out a 1-1 draw in their Indian Super League match at the JN Stadium on Friday. Roy Krishna gave the visitors a quick start with a goal inside five minutes but the hosts restored parity through Prasanth Karuthadathkuni on the stroke of half-time. In the end, Chennaiyin, who had beaten ATK Mohun Bagan in the opening match, were reduced to 10 after goalkeeper Debjit Majumder was given an early bath.

The opening goal came after smart work from Siva Narayanan, who bent his cross with the outside of his right foot. All Krishna had to do was glance the header as the delivery was inch perfect. It was the ideal start for the visitors who had enjoyed a 1-0 win in their first match against NorthEast United. However, from there on, it was the home team that did the majority of the running.

Chennaiyin's Prasanth Karuthadathkuni equalises against Bengaluru FC during their ISL game at Jawaharlal Nehru Stadium in Chennai on Friday | ASHWIN PRASAD

This played itself out 10 minutes later when the hosts had a marvellous opportunity to go level. Ajith Kumar cut the ball back from inside the box to Karuthadathkuni. But the midfielder's strike was straight at Gurpreet Sandhu. In the 26th minute, Karuthadathkuni wriggled into the Bengaluru FC box but couldn't control the ball. However, the loose ball was sent goalwards by Petar Sliskovic who found the woodwork.

The pressure paid off in the final minute of first-half stoppage time. Sliskovic beat his marker and put Karuthadathkuni through on goal. The former Kerala Blasters man beat the offside trap and made no mistake.

In the 79th minute, substitutes Ninthoinganba Meetei and Kwame Karikari combined and almost gave the hosts the lead but Karikari's strike was saved by Sandhu.

Rao meets all stakeholders

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chennai

IN a day-long meeting, stakeholders shared their views on the various provisions of Indian Olympic Association (IOA) constitution and the changes that need to be incorporated in it. More than 100 members from IOA, state Olympic associations (SOAs), national sports federations, sports ministry, individual members met Supreme Court-appointed retired judge L Nageswara Rao in New Delhi on Friday.

The retired judge had issued a notice on October 2 inviting petitioner Rahul Mehra and other respondents — the Union Government, Sports Authority of India, Athletics Federation of India, Badminton Association of India, National Rifle Association of India, All India Tennis Federation, All India Chess Federation, Indian Amateur Boxing Federation among others to be part of the meeting. Since the number of representatives were high, the meeting time each got was not too long.

The notice also invited state Olympics associations and individual sportspersons to be part of the meeting.

The Supreme Court in its last order had approved timeline for holding the IOA elections under the revised constitution.

The Delhi High Court had asked the IOA to incorporate 13 points in its revised constitution, including removal of the contentious restrictive clause, no voting rights for SOAs.

Referee to cash in on Maradona 'Hand of God' World Cup ball

ASSOCIATED PRESS @ London

A FORMER World Cup referee is about to cash in on his biggest mistake — to the tune of about $3 million.

The ball used when Diego Maradona scored his notorious "Hand of God" goal against England at the 1986 World Cup has been put up for auction by the Tunisian ref who was in charge of the game and missed soccer's most famous handball.

Graham Budd Auctions said Thursday they expect the 36-year-old Adidas ball owned by ex-referee Ali Bin Nasser to fetch between $2.7 million and $3.3 million when it goes up for sale in Britain on November 16, four days before the World Cup in Qatar kicks off.

The ball auction comes amid a boom for sports memorabilia. The shirt worn by Argentina great Maradona in that game against England at the World Cup in Mexico was sold in May for $9.3 million, at the time the highest price paid at auction for a piece of sports memorabilia. That was beaten by a 1952 Topps Mickey Mantle baseball card, which went for $12.6 million in New York in August.

A Michael Jordan Chicago Bulls jersey from Game 1 of the 1998 NBA Finals — the season featured on the ESPN and Netflix documentary "The Last Dance" — fetched $10.1 million last month, double what auctioneers expected, to eclipse Maradona's shirt for the record for game-worn memorabilia.

"2022 has been an amazing year in the sports memorabilia market with records broken on three occasions," auction house chairman Graham Budd said. "It's an exciting time in the market and we're wondering whether this famous football will break records as well."

The Maradona goal that gave Argentina a 1-0 lead in the quarterfinal against England — but should never have been allowed — has become part of football legend. Maradona jumped as if to head the ball but instead punched it past goalkeeper Peter Shilton. England players protested to Bin Nasser but the goal stood. Maradona quipped afterward that it was scored "a little with the head of Maradona and a little with the hand of God," leading to its iconic name.

Maradona used the same ball, the only one used in the quarterfinal, for his brilliant second goal four minutes later. He ran 68 meters from his own half and weaved his way past half the England team before slipping the ball past Shilton to make it 2-0. That goal was voted the World Cup Goal of the Century in 2002. Argentina won the game 2-1 and went on to lift the World Cup.

DAY'S DIARY

Nobel winners

Nelson Mandela and South African President FW de Klerk were announced to be awarded the Nobel Peace Prize on this day in 1993

IMPORTANT WORK

Mandela and de Klerk were awarded the prize for work on peaceful termination of the apartheid regime, and for laying the foundations for a new democratic South Africa

THE COMMITTEE'S TAKE

The Nobel Committee said Klerk and Mandela displayed personal integrity and political courage in finding a middle ground in the bitterly polarised politics

PUBLIC REACTION

The public reaction was subdued by the feeling that whatever the two men have brought to South Africa, it was not yet peace

One of the many reasons why Gunehgaar, starring Sumit Vyas, Gajaraj Rao, Shwetha Prasad, a teleplay, is special for Akarsh Khurana is, the format... which he feels is the star of the show

BEST OF BOTH WORLDS

MONIKA MONALISA

WE have often seen Akarsh Khurana directing some of the classic plays or some of the most entertaining shows on OTT platforms, but this time, the director is bringing the best of both worlds through his latest project Gunehgaar. Khurana, who was in the city for his play, says the story is an impact of all the exposure to Hitchcock and Poirot in his growing up days.

The show, which released on September 24 on Zee Theatre, is a teleplay that could remind one of the programmes played in the early '90s, which were made in a similar format. That was one of the biggest selling points for Khurana to pick up the project. "It's a format by itself. It is a teleplay. It is kind of like a film but it is not shot like a film. It is usually shot on one set. Back in the day, in Doordarshan, they used to do teleplays and they used to shoot in a fairly conventional manner like plays as if you are watching a play. But that was a little distant and you would watch it from afar," explains Khurana. However, he wanted to push his boundaries and not just shoot it like a play. "There were elements which were a little theatrical and used tricky camera work, blending what I had learnt from my theatre work and film work to create something interesting and new, where the power of storytelling and performance comes through," says he.

This is the first time that Khurana, who has also directed the Netflix romantic drama Mismatched starring Prajakta Kohli and Rohit Saraf, whose season 2 is out now, is doing something that is strictly a suspense thriller. "I have attempted suspense on stage through plays. This is a teleplay and Zee got in touch with me saying they wanted to try something in this genre. I said I was very excited to try it since I have tried it on stage and have never shot it and this is going to be a hybrid of both stage and film," says Khurana, adding that this was a perfect opportunity to experiment.

It is a teleplay, which is kind of like a film but it is not shot like one. It is usually shot on one set. There were elements which were a little theatrical and used tricky camera work

Akarsh Khurana, director

A psychological thriller, it stars Gajraj Rao, Shweta Basu Prasad and Sumeet Vyas in the lead roles.

The filmmaker also plays an important role in the casting and calls working with Vyas comes from a comfort zone. "Sumeet and I have worked a lot together. He is my go-to person and I was fortunate that he was free and available to do this. This is the first time that I am working with Shweta Basu Prasad," says Khurana, who has worked with Vyas in shows like Tripling. With Rao, whom he had been trying to work with previously, it finally happened this time.

"Gajraj Rao is someone I wanted to work with. I have approached him a couple of times and it has not worked out due to dates and other issues. He has always been supportive of my theatre work. This time I told him about it and it's kind of a play we are shooting and it's a short requirement etc," says Khurana, adding the format interested the actor the most.

QUICK FIX

KADDU BESAN BURFI

Contributed by Priya Shiva, Chennai

INGREDIENTS

- Besan/Chickpeas flour: 1 cup
- Grated pumpkin: 1/2 cup
- Grated coconut: 1/2 cup
- Melted ghee: 1 + 1/2 cup
- Sugar: 2 + 1/2 cups
- Musk melon seeds: 2 tbsp
- Milk: 1 cup
- Green cardamom powder: 1 tsp

METHOD

- Grease a square plate with ghee and keep it aside.
- Sift besan flour. Add the flour in a pan on low flame for two minutes and lightly roast it. Keep stirring.
- Saute grated pumpkin and coconut for a few minutes in a pan so that the raw smell leaves from it.
- Now combine besan flour, sauteed pumpkin-coconut, milk, melted ghee, sugar in a heavy bottom pan and mix it well to ensure there are no lumps.
- Place the pan on the gas stove on low flame and stir continuously for a few minutes.
- Now you'll start seeing it bubbling and ghee leaving on the sides. Add cardamom powder and when it gets thicker transfer the content into the ghee greased plate and leave it for a few minutes.
- When it is still warm, sprinkle musk melon seeds on top and cut it into square pieces.
- When it cools down, keep it in an airtight container.

PRASARITA BALASANA VARIATION

(Wide child pose variation arms under ankles)

This is a variation of Prasarita Balasana (Wide Child Pose). This is a creative way a yoga teacher can teach the students to extend their hips behind in Prasarita Balasana, many of them are not able to touch the sit bones to the heels.

STEPS

- First of all, you have to align Prasarita Balasana Variation Head Up (Wide Child Pose Variation Head Up).
- You can stay in this position for 4-5 breaths.
- From here, inhale and on an exhale, taking the forward bend, bring your hands inside the space between the legs and hold the ankles with the palms.
- Then, breathe and stay here with the head aligned on the mat.
- Now, you can feel the external rotation of the shoulder blades and the opening of the upper back.
- You can now stay here as per your capacity, being aware of the breath.
- To exit from the pose, firstly release the clasp of the ankles with the palms.
- Then, inhaling, realign to Prasarita Balasana Variation Head Up.
- Stay here for a couple of breaths and finally rise up to Vajrasana (Thunderbolt Pose) and then relax.

LIMITATIONS

People who have injuries in the wrist, fingers, ankles, and shoulder need to avoid this pose.

Those who have undergone surgery on joints of the knees, shoulder, ankles, or wrists must avoid this pose.

People who have asthma, heart ailments, or any and having chest congestion should avoid this pose because the arm alignment constricts the chest and the diaphragm.

BENEFITS

- Holding the ankles from the inside of the legs stretches the wrists and forearms.
- It also helps in aligning the hips and sit bones towards the heels. The backside of the upper torso is expanded with the concave alignment of the back.
- The breath awareness is essential here to gauge the comfort to stay as per capacity.
- It prevents the practitioners from holding the pose in rapid suffocation. This practice aligns the buttocks on the heels.
- The lock of the palms on the ankles is a bandha that creates room for the spinal extension and allows the practitioner to keep the buttocks from touching the heels.

HOLA my good people!
As an 'emancipated woman' (a term I find archaic and annoying), the month of March seems to be the one in which I am the most in demand as a speaker. Men wanting to 'empower' us poor ladies crawl out of the woodwork, hoping to add a blue tick to their company's profile, reiterating that they were 'women conscious work places' (whatever that means!). I must admit that I too, fall into line by mouthing platitudes like; "every day is woman's day. Right ladies" I wait for the applause to die-down and launch into a quasi-humorous talk on creating an even playing field in the work-place and equal opportunities for women. Every year I ardently hope that all this hoopla will materialize into something concrete and things will not eventually blow over till the next Women's Day approaches.

It's a roller coaster ride with having to pick my battles and turn hostile discussions into amiable ones. Sometimes it looks like a very steep uphill battle but when I see a slow but positive change in the newer generation I feel there is hope! As a person I too have learned to measure and the wisdom of credentialing my words so as to receive a response rather than a reaction from my target audience. The aim is to try and create an equal and level playing field between 'humans,' only taking into account their talent, grit and hard-work so as to have an unbiased playground to work and play. I have been very inspired with many fabulous orators who have altered my way of being. Instead of being a rebel and a fighter (which can only take you thus far) one can become an adept enroller who highly developed oratory skills can be used to make a succinct and valid point. Whew! Now that was a mouthful.

I was happy to attend an event called 'Shefs at The Leela,' a brainchild of good friend and GM Madhav Sehgal, who is an equal opportunity cheerleader. He took an idea that was very close to his heart and animatedly went about creating a tribune in conjunction with food-writer Rupali Dean, to showcase a power-house of women known for their talent and hard work. No set rules or excuses for either men or women. It was real dichotomy that a woman's seat of power was always the humble kitchen, but in a hotel set-up the kitchen is the male bastion. It is very difficult for women chefs to enter or shine in that environment and the ones that have, haven't really reached their full potential. That is where the germination of this idea fructified. The concept of 'Shefs at The Leela' was born where women from all over the world who excelled at their craft and were willing to share, empower and inspire others through this magical culinary journey of food, were given the right opportunity to shine and garner the right 'eyeballs'! And boy, did they!

The week ended nicely with a fabulous Pan-Asian dinner and cocktails at their LGBTQ friendly lounge Kitty Ko, at The Lalit Ashok. I loved the idea that gender-fluidity is now more a norm than an anomaly...

Wine blends in winemaking

MIXOLOGY
Abhay Kewadkar
MD of Tetrad Global Beverage Pvt Ltd and Wine consultant

WINE blending is an art. The magic happens when a winemaker gets a chance to experiment with balancing flavours. Blends are generally created by using different grape varietals. There could be two grapes blended equally, or several in different proportions.

Even adding 2-5 percent of a particular varietal In the Blend can change the taste, note profile and with it the experience of drinking it. Petit Verdot varietal in Bordeaux blend is the best example for this. The idea is to create more complex and flavourful wine profiles for people to enjoy.

Grenache and Syrah are common wine blends, but adding Sangiovese, Cabernet Sauvignon, Negrette, and Tempranillo makes a unique wine. Southern Rhone, Bordeaux and Champagne are regions recognized for generating superb wine blends.

Burgundy's Pinot Noir and Chardonnay, Barolo's Nebbiolo, and Ribera del Duero's Tempranillo are famous single-varietal wines in red wines. In white wines category Alsace varietals like Riesling and Gewztraminer, Burgundy's chardonnay are the classic single varietal wines.

Some classical examples are the Bordeaux blend of Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot, Cabernet Franc and Petit Verdot in red wines, Sauvignon Blanc and Semillion in white wines.

Cabernet Sauvignon on its own can be very strong with astringent tannins which can take a long time to soften. A Merlot is added to soften the tannins apart from adding some complexity. Another classic example is the Cabernet sauvignon and the Shiraz from Australia where Shiraz brings in the spicy character.

DARSHAN RESUMES SHOOTING FOR THARUN KISHORE SUDHIR'S D56

Darshan and Tharun Kishore Sudhir

CE FEATURES

EVEN as fans of Challenging star Darshan are awaiting the release of V Harikrishna's Kranti, the actor has now moved on to the next leg of the shooting of his film with Tharun Kishore Sudhir. The film, tentatively titled D 56, is produced by Rockline Venkatesh. While a lot of details about the project are kept under wraps, the first look theme poster of D 56 is out, and we know that the film is based on a real-life incident. The shooting is scheduled in Bengaluru, and later, the team will move to Hyderabad in November for a month-long schedule.

D56 also marks the debut of actor Malashree's daughter, Radhana Ram, who is paired alongside Darshan.

This is the third collaboration between Tharun and Darshan after Chowka (the actor played a cameo) and Roberrt. Tharun also recently marked his debut as a producer with Guru Shishyaru, which has been receiving rave reviews and is doing well at the box office.

Sriimurali

My focus is completely on Bagheera: Sriimurali

The next leg of the shooting of the project, backed by Hombale Films, and directed by Suri, will happen in Mangaluru

CE FEATURES

SRIIMURALI is completely in work mode, and his entire focus is on his next, Bagheera. This is yet another much-anticipated multilingual project that is backed by Hombale Films, known for KGF and Kantara.

The action commercial entertainer, directed by Dr. Suri of Lucky fame, is written by Prashanth Neel, who made his directorial debut with the Sriimurali-starrer Ugramm.

Bagheera will have Sriimurali playing a rugged cop and the first look poster came with the tagline, 'When society becomes a jungle.'

The entire team is in Mangaluru for the next leg of the shooting schedule, which began early this week. Speaking from the sets, Sriimurali said that his entire focus is on Bagheera. "25 per cent of the shoot is complete, and we still have a long way to go. Post the Mangaluru schedule, we will take a short break before returning to non-stop shooting at Goa from October 29."

'Nothing can stop you from achieving your goal'

A SHARADHAA

A still from Head Bush

PAYAL Rajput, an actor from Punjab, who made her Hindi debut with Veerey Ki Wedding, feels fortunate with the way her career in South Indian cinema is going forward. "I started with a Punjabi film, for which I won awards, then came to the limelight with a Telugu film, RX 100, and also worked in Tamil. With my Sandalwood debut also in place, I will soon follow up with Malayalam too. I'm aiming to conquer the hearts of people by working in different languages," says Payal.

Speculations about Payal making her Sandalwood debut always did their rounds, which finally came through with the gangster drama, Head Bush directed by Shoonya. The actor says Dhananjay, the lead actor and producer of Head Bush approached her for the role. "I knew about Dhananjay's popularity in Sandalwood. When we met in Hyderabad, he shared details about my role and the script, and I thought it was perfect for my debut," she says.

Head Bush is based on Agni Sreedhar's autobiography My Days in the Underworld, and Payal agrees that playing a real-life character was a huge responsibility. "Being part of a biopic, we have to portray real-life characters, and the pressure will be more than the fictional roles. I did a fair amount of homework for my role, in consultation with Dhananjay, and especially with Agni Sreedhar. I have great respect for the writer," says Payal.

It was important that Payal completely understood the milieu in which she was making her debut in Sandalwood. It wasn't a run-of-the-mill subject, and the period setting of Head Bush made it all the more challenging. "Half knowledge is always dangerous. When I got to play the role, I sat with Agni Sreedhar to understand the subject, and specifically, my character. She is a girl from Punjab, who lived in Bangalore, spoke broken Kannada, and falls in love with MP Jayaraj. Although I had heard the name of MP Jayaraj, I didn't have a lot of information about his background. It was necessary for me to do the groundwork to understand my character even better. The reason they chose me is that I'm a Punjabi and fluent in the language, and I suited the character they had in mind. In fact, I came to know that the real-life person on whom my character is based on was alive. I wanted to meet her, but it didn't happen. They gave me the character sketch and got me to work on the body language and the slang. I have even tried to learn a few lines in Kannada, and I managed to lend my own voice. I did a lot for this film, and hope to see good results," she says.

Payal shares her experiences of meeting the late actor Puneeth Rajkumar on the sets of Head Bush. "I met Puneeth sir, and expressed my excitement of meeting him. He was happy about my Sandalwood debut," says the actor, who has lovely things to say about her co-star Dhananjay. "Working with Dhananjay was a comfortable experience. He is such a brilliant actor, and I have learned so much from him. He is a down-to-earth person, and I'm sure he would be a dear friend for the rest of my life. Moreover, the Kannada industry has been very welcoming, and I've experienced this right from the time I entered the sets of Head Bush." With the world's eyes trained on Kannada cinema, Payal is glad she is making her debut in this time and age. She asserts that it is the best time to be in cinema, irrespective of the language. "Today, cinema is providing everything to an actor, and nothing stops you from achieving your goal. You just need to have the required talent and work at your craft, and you are good to go."

Apart from Head Bush, Payal also has the Telugu film, Ginna, co-starring Vishnu Manchi, which will be released in multiple languages, hitting the screens on the same day. "There is double pressure when you have two releases on the same day. I have some good vibes about Head Bush, and can't wait to watch it on the silver screen," says Payal, who is waiting to know the film's result, as it will help her to take that next step in the Kannada industry.

Being part of a biopic, we have to portray real-life characters, and the pressure will be more than the fictional roles. I did a fair amount of homework for my role, in consultation with Dhananjay, and especially with Agni Sreedhar. – Payal Rajput, actor

Aba Jaba Daba gets to the final leg of shooting

CE FEATURES

MAYURA Raghavendra, who directed last year's Kannad Gothilla, is currently busy with Aba Jaba Daba. Starring Pruthvi Ambaar and Ankita Amar, the shooting is going on in full swing in Bengaluru, and it will be wrapped up in the next ten days.

Speaking to the media, director Mayura said, "I was supposed to do a movie with Rachita Ram after Kannad Gothilla, but it was delayed because of the big budget. Meanwhile, the story of this out-and-out comedy film was ready. The story needed a good title, which I managed to get right in my home. My brother often says the phrase Aba Jaba Daba to her daughter, which means 'I don't know', and that became the title of my film.

The fantasy comedy-drama produced by Anantha Krishna Shastry marks the first collaboration between Pruthvi and popular serial actor Ankita Amar. The latter plays a singer who is a big fan of SPB.

Along with Achyuth Kumar, Sudharani, and Babu Hirannaiah, Aba Jaba Daba has veteran actor Urvashi playing a pivotal character. Sangeeta Bhatt is also making her comeback and will be seen in a special role. Giridhar Divan is doing the cinematography and Satish Raghunathan is the music director of this film.

PURE IN ITS EMOTION BUT SLIPS IN ITS EXPRESSION

CHHELLO SHOW
Starring: Bhavin Rabari, Bhavesh Shrimali, Richa Meena and Dipen Raval
Directed: Pan Nalin
RATING 3/5

DIRECTOR Pan Nalin's Chhello Show or Last Film Show is the story of 'samay'. And I am not talking about the protagonist. It is about the passage of time. Time, light and nine-year-old Samay's bid to catch the latter and turn the former. It is about trains, food and cinema, and life strung between them. Pan Nalin, who hails from Gujarat's Amreli district, relives his childhood through visuals of grass fields, frolicking children and railway tracks. It is endearing to see an artist tell a personal story. It takes a lot of courage, commitment and vulnerability. But in stories like these, sometimes the lines between artistic expression and pure indulgence blur. If not anything else, Chhello Show is guilty of that.

The film is still pure in its emotion. Labeled as a Pan Nalin 'flight', it is the director's love letter to cinema. It tells the story of young Samay (an impressive performance by Bhavin Rabari) who lives in Chalala, a village in Gujarat's Saurashtra. His father makes tea at the railway station and he sells them to the passengers of halting trains. Samay's innocence is cuddlesome as he goes around from window to window, balancing the tea and the cash being given by travellers. His childlike wonder though is reserved for light. Sample this scene where Samay goes to a theatre for the first time to watch Jai Mahakali (1951). He is in awe of the pictures on screen, the fluttering pigeons on the wall fans (in an interview with me, Pan Nalin told that as a child, when he first saw the zoom-in on the face of Goddess Kali in the film, he got petrified and hid under the bench). But what mesmerizes him the most is the ray of light coming from the film projector. Samay tries to catch this light between his fingers. Grabbing this light, understanding it and using it to make images becomes a fascination for the young filmmaker for the rest of the film.

Chhello Show aces when it comes to images. Swapnil S Sonawane's cinematography invigorates the village of Chalala. The way Samay and his coterie of young cinephiles look at the sun with their hands curved into a scope is a shot worth cherishing. There are others too: the children looking at a pride of lions waiting for them to leave; them lying on the grass, looking at the sky through a film reel or Samay looking at a film from a small window in the projector room. All of them are visually striking but it's debatable if they give the necessary weight to the story. When Samay looks at his beloved projector being craned out of the theatre like a fish out of a pond it serves as a gloomy image but it doesn't convey Samay's loss convincingly. The relationship between characters is intricately depicted. Richa Meena as Samay's mother says a lot through her expressions, the way she cooks his lunch and how she looks in the mirror while applying bindi. Bhavesh Shrimali as the projectionist Fazal, whom Samay bribes with food in exchange for free movie watching, has the most entertaining and adorable scenes. In one of them, Samay shares food with him. A Brahmin, and a Muslim laughing, relishing a meal with a film playing in the background. It is an arresting visual which still feels like a distant dream.
